CREDITS ROLE

EXT. METROPOLITAN CITY PARK - EVENING

Dark blue warm summer night with people enjoying each themselves. Everyone wants to stay out as long as they can, ICE CREAM TRUCK is making full use out of the occasion.

In an apartment, overlooking the park with a brilliant view, a TV flickers.

MUSIC IS DROWNED OUT BY TV

CREDITS STOP.

INT. PETER'S APARTMENT - CONTINUOUS

A messy studio apartment with the only real furniture being a couch, TV, and FAN. Next to the couch is a TV dinner table, with a half eaten microwave meal on it. There is a lack of decoration, unless piled up clothes, boxes, and junk food wrappers are considered "decoration".

On the couch is PETER (25, no shirt without the body to go with it, sweatpants, yellow teeth) laying on his back, fan blowing in his face, absorbing TV garbage.

Peter FLICKS through the channels, knowing there is nothing on.

Peter lets out a loud defeated sigh.

Turns off TV.

Looks at own reflection in the black screen.

He hears people TALKING and LAUGHING outside.

Peter stands up and walks up to the window.

He looks over the brilliant green and luscious park, filled with people having a wonderful time.

His eyes, lazily, look around;

- A group of Peter's peers are sitting in the park, listening to MUSIC

- Stoners sitting on a table, laughing HYSTERICALLY at someone's joke

- A young couple sitting, eating ice cream, holding hands. He looks from the woman's hand to her smile, she giggles.

Peter rummages around in his sweatpants pockets -- some change, enough for ice cream.

He starts walking to the front door, putting on the first shirt that he runs into off the floor.

He makes it to the door and reaches for the doorknob -- but his hand is stopped, as if a forcefield is blocking him.

Peter's arm goes limp. He sighs.
He looks back at the window.

He closes the curtains aggressively.

Peter sits back down. Grabs TV remote.

Turns TV on -- same garbage still.

Turns TV OFF.

Peter looks around, looks at clock. 20:32.

Looks off screen.

INT. BATHROOM - LATER

Yellow unkept bathroom. No toothpaste or toothbrush in sight.

Peter takes his clothes off and gets in the shower.

The white shower curtain is the only 'clean' colour in the bathroom.

He turns the SHOWER ON.
Mirror and bathroom window fog up.

We see Peter holding himself under the shower, hugging himself as if he was hugging another person intimately.

The current from the shower head changes to a less aggressive one.

Peter pulls back, as if hit by acid.

PETER

Fuck!

The shower only produces piercingly cold water.

PETER (CONT'D)

Fuck...

Desperately, Peter is hoping for warm water but it never comes.

INT. PETER'S APARTMENT - LATER

Peter, clothed, pacing, phone against his ear.

We hear the PHONE RINGING, but no one picks up.

Peter stands still. Sighs.

INT. PETER'S APARTMENT - LATER

Peter is staring at himself in the TV reflection.

CAMERA ON WINDOW LOOKING OUT:

He stands up and walks away. Behind him the window looking out to the park and the warm summer night.

OFF-SCREEN: Peter's FOOTSTEPS can be heard, walking to his apartment door OPENING IT.

WALKING OUT.

CLOSING IT.

We drift closer to the window, while we hear Peter's FOOTSTEPS die out and reveal more and more of the park and the street lights illuminating the city.

A person, which can only be Peter -- FALLS PAST the window.

LOUD THUD.

White birds FLY UP past the window into the dark blue sky.

INT. AMBULANCE - NIGHT

Peter is in the back of a AMBULANCE, racing through the streets, SIRENS BLARING.

Peter, bust and bruised, eyes closed, blood covering his face, neck brace. An Ambulance Care Assistant is PUMPING OXYGEN via a MANUAL RESUSCITATOR.

PETER (V.O.)
You fucking asshole...

INT. HOSPITAL OFFICE - DAY

Sunlight streams in through the white blinds. Behind the desk, sits DOCTOR WINCE. Opposite of him is Peter, his bruises less dark purple as before, stitched up scars, arm in sling.

DOCTOR WINCE unsure what to say.

DOCTOR WINCE
That is what you thought?

Peter nods "yes."
Peter's head hurts after nodding, holds his head in pain.

DOCTOR WINCE (CONT'D)
That was close, Peter.

Peter looks off, shakes yes.

PETER
Better luck next time.

DOCTOR WINCE
I am here to help you.
(points at hospital)
We, are here to help you.

DOCTOR WINCE (CONT'D)
Your parents are here to help you too. They are rushing over here as we speak.

PETER
Ahhh, you called my parents?

DOCTOR WINCE
(serious)
This is not just tittle-tattling, Peter.

PETER
-It kinda is.

DOCTOR WINCE

-.They are concerned about you. We all are. The only chance we got to help you is because you didn't succeed, thankfully.

(beat)

We want to help you Peter, your parents want to help you.

(He looks at Peter, waiting a response)

They love you, Peter.

Peter sighs -- he knows, but he doesn't feel it.

PETER

So, what now?

DOCTOR WINCE

That is what I wanted to ask you. What now?

What are you going to do when you go home?

Jump from a higher building next time?

PETER

(snickering)

Didn't even think about that yet.

DOCTOR WINCE

(snickering)

I know you like a laugh, Peter. But you can't be as willy-nilly with your life as you are with your jokes.

(beat)

I don't think I can trust you.

(beat)

Why should I?

Peter shakes his head in disagreement, chuckles.

PETER

You're pretending like I fell on my head.

Doctor looks at Peter's bruises on his face.

DOCTOR WINCE

Peter, I don't want to live in a shilly-shally world about you killing yourself or not. And I definitely don't want that for your parents.

Peter sighs.

PETER
Me neither.

DOCTOR WINCE
Good.
I am committing you for your own safety and wellbeing.

Peter acts like he gotten a bad hand in poker for the 20th time in a row.

PETER
What? You don't mean like sitting with some looney's in a circle, talking about why (finger parenthesis)
"It is bad to jump in front of a train," One of those mental institution?

DOCTOR WINCE
(smiling)
Well... Lucky you, because you don't have to go to a mental health department of any sort.
(solemn) Fortunately, for you, there are many young people that consider suicide these days-.
(coughs)
And therefor, our mental health departments are filled to capacity.

PETER Lucky me.

Peter leans back.

DOCTOR WINCE
We are committing you to Bishop Grove in Highmore.

PETER
Sounds like a care home.

Doctor looks on the desk through his glasses, shuffles papers around.

PETER (CONT'D)
You're not sending me to a fucking nursing home, are you?

Doctor takes off his glasses.

DOCTOR WINCE
It is the only option we have,
Peter.

PETER
No it's not, like for example: not sending me to a fucking old people's home and just leave me be.

Peter is animated, but he had forgotten he's injured.

DOCTOR WINCE
You know we can't do that. Neither do your parents.

PETER
They agreed to this?

Doctor looks uncomfortably at the disgruntled Peter.

CUT TO:

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - LATER

The Berry's stand close to the wall so not to stand in the way of personnel. DAD (60, grey hair, beer belly, grey sweater, glasses, tallest of the family), MOM (57, blond, khaki pants down to her ankles, light green knitted cardigan) and JOSHUA (12)

Peter is getting bombarded by kisses from his Mom.

PETER
Yeah, Mom, I get it. I get it.

Peter gently pushes his Mom off him.

MOM
Does it hurt a lot?

PETER
Nah, I'm fine. It's not that bad.

Mom gives a concerned, but happy smile that her son is still alive.

DAD
So... Why did you...

MOM Frank.

Dad looks down to Joshua who looks at him. Back to Peter.

DAD
How did it you fall?

Peter is taken aback, sees Mom, Dad and the naïve Joshua looking at him.

PETER
I... uuuh. Was looking the other way, and uuuh, I tripped, and fell down the stairs.

Mom smiles at Peter, grabs Joshua by his shoulders and puts him in front of her.

JOSHUA
I thought Mom said you fallen from the roof?

PETER
Roof? Oh I probably think she said "room".

Peter fakes laughs.

PETER (CONT'D)
No, really, I am okay.

Peter forces a smile like he is used to with his parents.

MOM
See Josh? Your big brother is fine, he can handle a punch. What would you say if we get some chips from the cafeteria.

Mom takes Joshua by the arm and walk off, does a quick little wave. Peter waves back awkwardly.

Dad and Peter are left alone, awkwardly.

DAD
So you know you're going to be in a nursing home for some time?

PETER
Do I really have to go? It sounds miserable.

DAD
Well what else do you want us to do?

PETER
You don't have to do anything, I will sort this out myself, please, you guys are already doing enough.

DAD
Well... No, otherwise you wouldn't have jumped off the ro-.

Dad's VOICE BREAKS.
Peter is shocked at his old man showing emotions like this.

PETER
Please, this is not your fault, it is all me, you guys are doing everything you can.
(Peter gets emotional)
I wish I could do something back for you guys for once.

Dad takes a DEEP BREATH.

DAD
Than go to the nursery home.

Peter disappointed to hear that.

DAD (CONT'D)
The doctors say it is the right decision. And we know that you living at home is not an option, we know that doesn't make you happy.

Peter understands.

DAD (CONT'D)
It will make it easier for your mother and me to know your safe there.

Peter starts to tear up.

PETER
I'm sorry, Dad.

Peter hugs his dad.
Uncomfortable, dad embraces Peter.

INT. VARIOUS - MONTAGE

ON-SCREEN: Happy and positive infomercial of Bishop Grove Care Home.

FEMALE NARRATOR (V.O.)
Community, Care, and Rest.

FEMALE NARRATOR (V.O.)
Bishop Grove Care Home has it all.

FEMALE NARRATOR (V.O.)
With 24-hour-service, daily activities, and freedom, the inhabitants of Bishop get everything their rickety hearts desire.

CUT TO:

INT. PASSENGER BUS - DAY

Peter, wounds healed slightly, is alone in the back of the bus besides the driver.

Peter is watching an infomercial on his phone.

FEMALE NARRATOR (V.O.)
(through phone) Bishop Grove Care Home, a place to take things slow.

Peter puts phone away, looks over the sunny countryside -- more depressed than ever.

EXT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME FRONT DOOR - DAY

The Bishop Grove Care Home is a wide single floor building that spreads far and wide. The front door is a rotating door keeping the warm air inside at all cost. A couple of dilapidated pale seniors in shorts are sitting in their wheelchairs, boiling in the sun.

AUJLA (45, Indian, blue nurse clothing, pudgy, badge with name on chest) is standing at the bus stop with NAYA (35, black, gap in front teeth, blue nurse scrubs, badge with name on chest).

AUJLA
It's important to greet the new inhabitants with excitement and welcomeness. We don't want to create a feeling they are not welcome of course.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
 (enthusiastic)
 There they are.

The bus parks in front of them.
 The doors open and Peter is directly greeted by nurse Aujla, smiling brightly to a point that it becomes unnerving.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
 Welcome to Bishop Grove Care Home!

Out, moodily, steps Peter, holding a sports bag filled with his belongings.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
 Oh, that's right, you must be Mr. Berry.

Aujla reaches out her hand. Peter ignores it, looks around to the dump that is the nursing home is -- unrecognizable from the ad.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
 My name is Misbah Aujla, head nurse at Bishop, but you can call me Miss' 'Auj'.

Aujla smiles at Peter, hoping to flower the minimum of human connection.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
 And this is nurse Naya. She works mostly the dinner shifts.

NAYA
 Nice to meet you.

Naya doesn't go for the futile handshake attempt.

PETER
 You guys know I am here against my will?

Aujla chuckles.

AUJLA
 Doctor Wince has indeed put you under our care for the foreseeing future, but don't let that distract you from having a soothing and comfortable time here at Bishop. Have you seen our ad by any chance?

Peter looks around the place, unimpressed.

PETER
Yes. Yes I did.

AUJLA Great!
Shall I show you around?

INT. ENTRANCE HALL - CONTINUOUS

An old woman is getting pushed forth in a wheelchair by a nurse.

AUJLA
Can I take your bag?

PETER
Nah, thanks, I am not one of those walking corpses yet.

OLD WOMAN (to nurse)
Me neither!

PETER
(to himself)
She isn't even walking though...

AUJLA
This is the entrance hall and reception desk. There will always be a nurse available in case you need anything or anyone.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - CONTINUOUS

A big open room, with a big TV in the corner, cornered by a few old couches and big chairs, occupied by a few octogenarians. They are watching a show in black and white.

AUJLA
This is where the residents like to get together and watch TV.

PETER
They know colour TV has been invented, right?

Aujla walks to the other side of the room where there are two rows of dinner tables.

AUJLA

This is where we eat our meals, but some residents prefer to eat their meals in their rooms or in front of the TV, but I strongly suggest to join us at the dinner tables cause it can be a hoot!

PETER

A hoot?

AUJLA

Yeah sorry, I tend to take some of residents lingo.

Peter looks over the space, sees a older woman, MISS KUNTZ (84, shrunken, bone white hair, squinting eyes, expensive clothes from the 1980's, somewhat resembling a gremlin), staring in front of her, close to catatonic. Trying to feed her is LISA (23, nurse clothing, red hair, Caucasian, badge with name on chest).

PETER

You also give them a choice if they want to eat?

AUJLA

Huh? Oh, that is just Miss Kuntz, she hadn't finished her breakfast and she really needs her strength.

PETER

Ah.

Peter looks at Lisa, enamoured with her beauty. SLOW MOTION: Lisa, intense eye contact with Peter, gooey pale brown stuff falls off the plastic spoon, and falls on her chest. With a naughty face, she makes an 'o' face, and sensually swipes the goo off her chest, putting it in her mouth, enjoying it a lot. She grabs the plastic cup filled to the brim with the goo, and pours it over herself, eyes closed, only peeking through them to reveal dark passionate eyes, smearing it over her chest.

Illusion breaks.

AUJLA

I'm telling you, you don't have to worry about Miss Kuntz.

PETER

(can't look away)
Oh I am not, I think she is amazing...

Aujla is confused.

JACK (O.S.)
Auj'! looking spicy as ever!

JACK (84, combed slick back dark thin grey hair, 70's transition sunglasses, blue buttoned up shirt to his chest, thick grey chest hair)

AUJLA
(to Peter)
This is one you should worry about...

PETER
Is he going to fight us?

AUJLA Worse...

JACK
So Auj', when are we meeting, and more importantly, my place or yours?

AUJLA
I will help bath you at 4, and I'll come to your room.

JACK
Great, than it's a date.
(looks at Peter)
And I didn't know Aujla had an older brother.

Peter and Aujla (who is 30 years Peter's senior and Indian) look back at Jack.

AUJLA
(to Peter)
Let me show you the courtyard where we like to spent our time.

JACK
See you later hot-stuff!

EXT. COURTYARD - CONTINUOUS

There's enough place to sit, or to sit and sleep, or sit and talk, or sit and sit and sun bath. The beautiful sun shining down hard on the seniors that dare and enjoy it.

AUJLA
Isn't it beautiful. Can't you wait and relax here for the foreseeing weeks?

Peter, still with his mind and eyes drawn to Lisa who is feeding Miss Kuntz.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
Mr. Berry?

PETER
Huh? Yeah. Yeah. Great courtyard.
The best.

AUJLA
Right? Especially with this sun.
Don't you already feel better?

PETER What?

AUJLA
With the beautiful sun and not a single cloud in the blue sky, don't you already feel a little bit better?

PETER Nah.

AUJLA
It doesn't make you feel a bit better?

Peter, squinting in the sun.

PETER
Nah. Sorry.

AUJLA
You don't have to be sorry.
(looking around)
Shall I show you to your room?

Aujla walks back inside.
Peter, rubbing his eyes from the bright sun, sees AL (82, black, grey hair on the sides, grey cardigan), depressed looking, staring out while sitting on a bench.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
Mr. Berry?

Peter walks after her.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - CONTINUOUS

A view on the parking lot, a single bed pushed up against the wall with nightstand, and a 30-year-old brown carpet, perfect to hide brown stains. Peter's room is already decorated and furnished with a mix of old & kitsch and kitsch & old.

AUJLA

Because it is just a temporary stay, the residents have come together to loan some furniture to you so that you would be comfortable during your stay.

Peter looks around, unimpressed, drops bag on bed. Peter feels the lamp that is not only ugly, but also resembles an urn.

PETER

So this is all from the residents?

AUJLA

Residents and past residents.

PETER

Oh, did some get better?

AUJLA

(taken aback)

Well, hmmm.

(realizes)

Ah, funny!

Awkwardly Peter nods.

AUJLA (CONT'D)

Well, we get this is all new and scary, but.-

Peter pushes the ROCKING CHAIR in the corner.

PETER

(to himself)

Well this is definitely not new.

AUJLA (CONT'D)

We want to make sure you feel at home at Bishop for your time here. You just settle in at your own pace.
Dinner starts at 4:30.

PETER
(sigh)
That sounds about right.

AUJLA
Exactly, so feel free to join us!
We are having beef stew!

Aujla leaves.

PETER (V.O.)
All junk.
How many dead people stuff did I "inherit"?
(beat)
How many people have died in this room?

Fiddles with some trinkets.
From out his bag he retrieves a Nintendo Switch -- and a bottle of whiskey.
He puts the bottle on his nightstand.

PETER (V.O.)
Don't worry, not long until you claim another.

He puts the hard liquor in the nightstand.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Peter is sitting on his bed, finishing his brown beef stew alone in his room.

PETER (mouth full)
This shit is actually not that bad.

Peter drops a scoop on the floor.
Scanning over the brown carpet, he can't spot the dropped beef stew.
Peter makes a "a, makes sense" face.
Peter scoops out the last bits and puts the bowl on his night stand.

He LIGHTS a cigarette while leaning in the window.

PETER (V.O.) (CONT'D) (CONT'D)
The nurse asked me that I should enjoy the sunny weather...
Which people always say would help.

ALARM RINGS

INT. PETER'S ROOM - MORNING

The clock reads a comfortable 06:00.

Peter lays in bed waking up to the ALARM.

PETER
What the fuck?

PETER (V.O.)
I don't know why, but I actually get more sad when it is sunny out.

Angry and tired, Peter shuts off the alarm.

Peter rolls back in bed.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - DAY

The alarm reads 12:00, the sun shines through the ineffective thin curtains, as if they weren't made to stay in bed longer than sunrise.

PETER (V.O.)
Because all of a sudden, the people
I have something in common with, that say they are sad, say "summer cured my depression for a moment".
(beat)
But it did fuck all to me...
Must I then really be so broken?

Peter is fast asleep.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Peter scurries in, just grabbing the last that is left of lunch, leaves back to his room.

PETER (V.O.)
Should I talk to these people?
Can I even?
Will they even be able to hear I word I say?
Let alone understand what I am talking about?

INT. PETER'S ROOM

Peter is lying on his bed, finished his lunch put the dishes on his nightstand with the rest.

PETER (V.O.)
I'm bored.
Or am I sad?
Or both.
I'm probably both.
I suck too, that is probably a variable too.

INT. HALLWAY - DAY

Peter walks past an elderly's woman's window.
She is struggling to talk through FaceTime with her family that couldn't be bothered to come there in person.

Peter looks in with a frown.

PETER (V.O.)
Maybe I should talk to someone?
(beat)
I don't want to.

Peter resumes walking.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - DAY

Peter, laying on bed.

PETER (V.O.)
Even the thought of talking to someone right now is making me feel miserable.

PHONE BEEPS.

Peter looks at his phone.
DROPS PHONE, exhausted.

PETER (V.O.)
Fuck.

INT. HALLWAY MEDICINE WINDOW - DAY

The elderly and Peter stand in line for their daily medicine.
Giving out the drugs in the medicine window stands Lisa.

MOHANDAS (81, brown skin, busy grey hair with black roots, pyjamas) sits with his cane in the hallway, staring in front of him.
Peter, reluctant , steps closer, stretches his arm out.

PETER
Hello, my name is Peter, what is yours?

The man is slow to react.

MOHANDAS
(hoarse)
I've shat myself

Peter stands back in line, pretends nothing happened, he looks at Lisa.

PETER (V.O.)
Oh my god.
There she is again.
She is so beautiful.
She is too beautiful.
I am gonna freeze up.
I'm gonna fuck up.
I know it, I know I will,
I always do.

SENIOR MEDICINE
Thanks dear.

Senior turns around, Peter has to step aside for the elder to pass. The senior smiles at Peter and SHUFFLES OFF.

PETER (V.O.)
Why am I so worried?
I am not even trying to get with her.
I want too, though.

LISA
Next please.

Peter walks up to the window.
Lisa is a bit surprised.

PETER Uhm.
(cough)
Peter Berry.

Lisa looks on her sheet with names, quick glimpse at Peter in between.

LISA
"Berry" yes.
Age, 24...

Peter nods, scared to make eye contact.
Lisa skims over a list.

LISA (CONT'D)
Uuuhm, you are not on the bowel movement record?

LISA (CONT'D)
Is that a mistake?

PETER
Do you want me on the bowel movement record?

NAYA
Oh sweetheart, he doesn't have to be on the 'Diarrhoea diary'.

PETER (V.O.)
Thank god.

LISA Oh.
(awkward) Sorry.

LISA (CONT'D)
(handing bag)
1 10mg Benzodiazepines (Valium) and
2 10mg sleeping pills (Sonata).

Peter grabs the bag, looks at ground.

PETER Thanks.

Lisa stops him.

LISA
Are you aware that you can't take these with any type of alcohol?

PETER (V.O.)
Shit. She knows?

PETER
Uhhh, yes ma'am.

LISA
(smiling)
Good. Just checking.

Peter walks off.

Lisa watches him go, still a bit flummoxed about the young nursing home resident.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - LATER

Peter opens the shelf of his nightstand.

In it, an old glass bowl with top - perfect for elderly people to store candy in for their grandchildren - contains 4 sleeping pills. Besides it, the bottle of hard liquor.

Peter DROPS TWO PILLS IN the GLASS BOWL.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - EVENING

Peter is laying on his bed on his side, watching a STAND-UP COMIC perform a bit on Youtube -- big smile on his face.

GEORGE CARLIN

(phone)

Something else I don't understand, motivation tapes, motivation books--
-what happened here, all of a sudden everybody is supposed to be motivated? It's a fairly simple thing, either you want to do something or you don't, what's the big mystery?
Besides, if you're motivated enough to go to the book store to buy a motivation book, aren't you motivated enough to do that? So you don't need the book, put it back, tell the clerk "fuck you, I'm motivated, I'm going home, I'm going home".

AUDIENCE IN VIDEO LAUGH (O.S.).

Peter CHUCKLES.

KNOCKING.

Peter, startled.

AUJLA (O.S.)

(behind door)

Dinner!

PETER

Come in.

Aujla walks in with Peter's dinner, a tray with classic old people food. Peter puts his phone away, sits up. She puts it on his bed stand.

AUJLA
Bon appetite.

Peter smiles and nods his head.

Aujla walks outside, but stops herself, looks back.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
Wouldn't you like joining us for dinner today?

PETER Uuuuh.

INT. DINING TABLES - LATER

The elderly are lined up, eating dinner, with a few nurses scattered around helping them. There is an eerie silence, besides the occasional COUGH, SLURP or WET BLOW.

Awkwardly in between, Peter is seated amongst the elderly.

Seated a few chairs to his right, on the opposite side is Naya, helping Miss Kuntz.

Peter spots Lisa, who is helping an elderly lady make her way to sit at the dinner table. She is patient and careful with the woman.

PETER (V.O.)
My god she's beautiful.
And she is so kind.
She is so good.
Too good for me.-

MISS KUNTZ
-Mjeh!

Naya, tries to airplane a fork with peas in Miss Kuntz mouth.

MISS KUNTZ (CONT'D)
Mjeh!

Peter looks what all the commotion about

NAYA
Ah please, Miss Kuntz, it's good for you.

Miss Kuntz BLOWS A RASPBERRY.

NAYA (CONT'D)
Would you like to serve yourself?

Naya pushes the plate closer to Kuntz.

AL (O.S.)
(whisper, to Peter)
She does this every time.

Peter looks to his left, Al, the man he saw in the courtyard the other day is hunched over the table, smiling.

AL (CONT'D)
Every. Time.

They both chuckle, look back at Kuntz.

Miss Kuntz feebly slides plate away.

Peter looks up at Lisa who too looks at the exchange between Naya and Miss Kuntz. Peter and Lisa's eyes meet. They share a smile.

NAYA (O.S.)
You said you were hungry before.

Naya slides the plate back.

MISS KUNTZ Mjeeeeeeh.

Miss Kuntz slides the plate further until it falls -- SHATTERS to pieces on the floor.

The elderly - who still have hearing - look up surprised and look at Miss Kuntz and Naya. Peter and Al look at each other, "oh shit".

NAYA
Look at the mess you made!
Whose supposed to clean that?

Miss Kuntz doesn't dare to make eye contact.
Peter is trying to hold his laughter.

Naya storms off.
Peter follows Naya with his eyes, until his gaze meets that of an uncomfortable Lisa. It becomes a sad affaire.

MISS KUNTZ
(moaning)
I... mheh, where is... who is...

Naya walks back up to Miss Kuntz with dinner served on a blue plastic plate and plastic cutlery.

NAYA

Here, plastic plate because you are not behaving as a grown woman.

MISS KUNTZ

But I... I don't...

Tears start to develop in Miss Kuntz eyes she looks around worried.

Naya forces the cutlery in Miss Kuntz hands.
She starts to cry.

Peter feels awkward, looks at Al who is pretending he hasn't noticed anything going on, just like everybody else.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Peter walks in and immediately drops down on his bed.

He opens his phone and starts watching comedy bits on Youtube, -- phone reading 72%.

COMEDIAN (O.S.)

(phone audio)

You ever noticed that, how boring and mundane their day was, women don't realize you don't want to hear about their boring ass fucking day?

Peter chuckles.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - LATER

Peter hasn't moved from his bed, still watching videos

The video stops, phone gives BATTERY WARNING MESSAGE, 5%.

Peter drops the phone on the bed beside him. Sighs.

Looks at clock. 22:30.

Peter looks around defeated.

INT. PETER'S ROOM BATHROOM - LATER

A square room, an open shower in the corner and a disabled-people toilet in the other.

Peter has taken off his clothes and starts up the shower, gets hit with piercing cold water.

PETER

Fuck!

Peter shoots back.

He holds his hand in the stream to see if it gets warmer, but it doesn't.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Peter drops on the bed again, not a droplet of warm water has hit him.

Defeated sigh.

Looks inside the nightstand. The glass bowl of pills, only 8 pills of 10mg each.

He slams the nightstand SHUT, the PILLS RATTLE INSIDE.

He rolls back, facing up, looking miserable and about to cry.

He holds his hands in front of his eyes.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Peter is packing all his belongings in his sports bag. Nintendo Switch, Whiskey, Pills etc.

Throws sportsbag over his shoulder.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

The hallways are empty and lonely, the elderly are fast asleep.

Peter walks past the 'In-and-Out' board.

'Naya' is 'In'.

'Aujla' 'Out'.

'Lisa' 'Out'.

Peter looks at Lisa's name on the board.

He drops his sports bag beside him, sighs.

Looks around the hallway, back and forth.

He turns back, back to his room -- then stops.

Turns back and walks back out, past the board, to freedom.

EXT. BUS STOP - NIGHT

A lone bus stop in a RAINY night. An even lonelier woman has found shelter there.

Peter jogs out of the rain, sits down besides the woman.

He gets his phone out, acting like a spot light on his face.

Peter, wearing ear pods, watches a comedian perform a bit.

COMEDIAN
(in ear pods)
So don't tell me who's on first base, it wasn't me!

Peter chuckles.

The woman looks over.

AUJLA (O.S.)
Peter?

Startled, Peter looks up at Aujla, takes ear pods out.

PETER
Oh, Aujla, I...

AUJLA
Are you sneaking out?

PETER
I... I guess I am.

Auj' looks at him dissappointed, up and down.

AUJLA
Well that's too bad.

Sits back and looks in front of her.

PETER
So? You are not going to drag me back?

AUJLA
Why should I? I am not forcing you to stay here.

PETER
You're not?

AUJLA

I can't keep you locked up in there, you will find a way to escape anyways. I am not in charge of a max-security prison, Peter.

PETER

Yeah... right. So I can just leave?

AUJLA

Well, yeah.
But I don't see why you want to.
Where will you go when your out of here?

PETER

Yeah, but, I... I just don't like it here. I think its horrible, I feel so alone and-.

AUJLA

-.Ah boehoe, you don't like doing whatever you want all day, having a meal served to you 3 times a day, having your room cleaned and having no responsibilities and just waiting until you feel better.

Peter has a small chuckle.

AUJLA (CONT'D)

(mortified)

Oh I am so sorry, I shouldn't make fun of your condition, I can understand it is hard.
Sorry, it's been a long day.

PETER

No it's okay, that sounds quite nice.

(beat)

And don't worry, I am not that big of a snowflake.

AUJLA

Well you are not making a strong case.

They share a small LAUGH.

AUJLA (CONT'D)

Sorry, there I go again.

PETER
(chuckling)
Nah no problem.

AUJLA
You are free to leave, but I don't want you wandering about and get lost, or worse. okay?

PETER
Okay... I get that.
I'll stay.

AUJLA (smiles)
Good, thank you, Peter.

The BUS PARKS in front of them.

Aujla stands up.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
If there is anything you need, you can always ask the nurses, they are happy to help.

PETER Thanks Auj'.

AUJLA
No problem.

Aujla gets on the bus and DRIVES OFF.

Peter stands up and starts walking back through the rain.

PETER (V.O.)
She was nice.
I hope I didn't offend her.
She probably did.
Of course she is.
I wanted to run away from the establishment she is running because I said it is that horrible.
She is probably mad.
But she didn't seem angry.
But that's her job.
But she wasn't on the clock.
I probably am gonna get a talking to tomorrow.
I hope she doesn't tell my parents.
I don't want them to worry.
She is definitely telling my parents.

INT. HALLWAY MEDICINE WINDOW - DAY

Elderly wait in line in their wheelchairs, walkers or even on their own two feet, but all in their bathrobes.

Peter stands in front of a woman who can't stop COUGHING, and a man in front of him who can't help but keep FARTING.

Nurse slides Peter's proscription across the counter.

INT. PETER'S ROOM

Peter downs one of the PILLS.

DROPS the other two sleeping pills in the glass bowl in the nightstand -- 12.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Laconic seniors are watching "I Dream of Jeannie" in black & white. Peter is seated with them but his attention is on Lisa who is helping an elderly man with his puzzle.

In front of the screen shuffles Miss Kuntz with her walker -- slowly.

ELDERLY RILE UP that they are missing the 60-year-old rerun.

ELDERLY TV WATCHER

You-. Kuntz, get away from the TV!

He is shaking his cane.

Miss Kuntz pretends not to hear them.

AL (O.S.)

Hey, sport.

It's Al, setting ready a game of CHESS on the dining table.

AL (CONT'D)

Wanna play a game?

PETER

Has Aujla asked you to talk to me?

AL

This is not a high school, kid. I am a 89 year old man, no one is telling me what to do.

Peter shrugs his shoulders and gets up.

Al's eyes are focused towards Miss Kuntz, still shuffling past the TV, ELDERLY YELLING she has to get lost.

PETER
Miss Kuntz, really is a...

AL
Piece of work. I know.

PETER (dissapointed)
Yeah.

Al gives a knowing smile. They chuckle.

AL
Kuntz likes attention.

PETER
Yeah I noticed. But anything other than that attention, right?

Al thinks, looks around, Peter follows his eyes.

AL
Still attention. There's suckers in here who haven't spoken to anybody else besides nurses who get paid to acknowledge them.

PETER
That's... wow... that's really depressing.

Al looks around.

AL
Yeah.

AL (CONT'D)
(uplifting)
So what is your name?

PETER (chuckle)
Peter.

AL
Nice to meet you. Al.

They shake hands over the chess board.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

Al makes the winning move by moving the queen.

AL Checkmate.

Peter looks around seemingly looking for someone.

PETER
Oh, I thought you were looking for the Australian waiter.

Al looks dejected.

AL
You suck.

PETER
I know.

They laugh.

Miss Kuntz walks in with her walker, HUMMING a song, badly.

AL
Look at Miss Kuntz.
Every time she hums like that, she is doing something she isn't supposed to be doing.

PETER
(chuckles) Really?

AL Yeah. I bet you she stole some shit.

Peter looks in her walker, in a compartment is a blanket which covers some items -- poking out is Peter's pill stash.

His chuckles disappear, and fear is all he can feel.
Peter stands up and walks towards Miss Kuntz.

AL (CONT'D)
Where you going?

Peter uncomfortable, not knowing how to confront her.

PETER
Miss Kuntz, is it?

She turns, her normal ugly face vanishes, replaced with a smiling one.

MISS KUNTZ
What is, dear?
Oh, you're a handsome young man.
What can I do for you?

PETER
Uh... Thanks
Uhhmm Miss Kuntz, could you by any chance.-

MISS KUNTZ
(hold hand around her ear)
Speak up boy, I can't hear you.

PETER
Miss Kuntz, might you have my...

MISS KUNTZ
Call me Betty.

Peter swallows, nods. Looks around.

PETER
Betty, do you have something that is mine in your walker?

Miss Kuntz friendly demeanor changes.

MISS KUNTZ
No.

Miss Kuntz turns back and starts shuffling away, slowly.

PETER
(under breath)
Kuntz...

AUJLA
(smiling)
I see that you are talking to the residents, very good.

PETER
I suspect Miss Kuntz has stolen something.

Aujla rolls her eyes.

AUJLA
Betty, did you steal something from Peter?

MISS KUNTZ
Mjeh.

Miss Kuntz walks off.

AUJLA
Come back here. Betty!

Miss Kuntz is 1 meter away and extending the lead between her and Peter and Aujla.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
Betty! 3...!
(looks at Peter)
What did she steal from you?

Peter made a mistake telling Aujla.
Miss Kuntz continues her escape.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
2...! Don't let me get down to 1.

PETER Uh. I...

AUJLA
1!
(notices Peter grabbing her) Huh?

PETER
You know what, I think it is a false alarm. I don't think she actually took anything.

AUJLA
You sure? Kuntz tends to do that.

PETER
Yeah sorry, my apologies.

Peter walks off with Aujla looking confused.

AL
What was that all about?

PETER
Nothing, I have to go.

Peter walks off.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Peter looks around the corner into the hallway. He sees Miss Kuntz shuffle into her room.

Peter leans against the wall, mouths "fuuuuuck".

INT. MISS KUNTZ'S ROOM - LATER

Her room looks straight out of the 1980s. A clear absence of memorabilia like photos of friends and family. Her stroller besides the door. A SNORING MISS KUNTZ is laying on her bed.

Peter quietly opens the door and scans the room.

CLOSES THE DOOR behind him quietly.

He checks the compartment under in the walker -- no pills, more worried now.

He spots the pill bowl on the nightstand besides the passed out Miss Kuntz -- glass top is laying besides the container.

With horror, Peter looks at the container and Miss Kuntz.

He takes the container and walks towards the door.

Grabbing the door handle, he looks back at Miss Kuntz.

He drops his head and sighs.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Aujla is standing, holding her clipboard, pretending she is too busy to talk to Jack who is trying to charm her.

JACK

There is a reason why people like riding around in old-timers, you know that?

AUJLA

Hit the sack, Jack.

JACK

Oh, I will...

Jack walks off self-assured.

Peter walks up to Aujla.

PETER
Hey Auj'.

Aujla turns to Peter, smiling.

AUJLLA
What is it, Peter?

PETER
I just saw Miss Kuntz walk to her room, and she seemed a bit drowsy, and I didn't know if I should notify you.

AUJLA
(chuckles)
Oh Peter don't worry. It is a nursing home, they tend to get sleepy here.

PETER
Well, yeah, uuh. Not that kind of drowsy. I was worried if she could be sick.

AUJLA Sick?
Oh, than I will check up on her then.

Aujla starts walking to Miss Kuntz's room.

PETER
Great, thanks. Just wanna know she is okay, you know?

AUJLA
No problem, thanks for looking out.

Peter looks at the floor and sticks up his thumb.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Peter sits on the floor outside Miss Kuntz's door.

Aujla walks out.

AUJLA
Oh, hey Peter, what your doing here?

He gets up.

PETER
I was wondering how Miss Kuntz was doing.

AUJLA
Oh she is fine, very sleepy.
But normal heart rate and breathing. Why?

PETER
Oh, nothing. I was just worried, (awkward laugh)
Fragile people, you know.

AUJLA
I know, but don't worry Peter. They are in good care with us.

PETER
Good, great. Very good.

AUJLA
Anything else I can help you with?

PETER
Uhmmm, yeah.
Uh, (whispers)
I was wondering if you told my parents about my little escape attempt.

AUJLA
Don't worry Peter, I didn't.
Plus, you didn't run away.
Just 'a late night stroll'.
At least, that is what I told the board when they saw your motion sensors go off last night.

PETER Motion sensors.

Aujla points at the motion detector's every resident's door has.

PETER (CONT'D)
(chuckling)
Oh my god, I didn't know we had those.

AUJLA

Your not the only one that tends to sneak out. Well, see you later, Peter.

Aujla walks off.

PETER (V.O.)

What a relief.

(beat)

Just hope she is not lying.

She can lie if it helps my treatment.

Right?

Can she? Surely not.

But if she didn't tell my parents, who is talking to them?

Is anyone talking to them about me?

I hope mom and dad are not worried.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Peter is seated at the dining table outside of dinner times.
He is playing his Nintendo Switch.

He peeks up to look at Lisa restocking the kitchen.

PETER (V.O.)

I don't want them to worry.

But they probably are.

Would they still worry if I come home with a girl like her?

They probably would be more worried.

Probably more worried for her than for me.

I don't want them to worry.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - LATER

Peter walks into his room, in the background, the elderly march for supper to the social space, like a flock of zombies.

KNOCKING on DOOR in hallway.

NAYA (O.S.)

(hallway)

Dinner time, Mr. Yarborough.

Peter CLOSES DOOR to his room.

PETER (V.O.)
I just... I feel...

He starts tearing up. Holds on to dresser.

Peter walks to his bathroom, wiping tears.

INT. PETER'S ROOM BATHROOM - CONTINUOUS

Hot steamy water pours out the showerhead.

Teary and red-eyed and no clothes, he steps in the SHOWER.

Like before, he caresses himself as if he was hugging a loved one, trying to stay in the warm stream of water.

INT. PETER'S ROOM BATHROOM - LATER

Refreshed, Peter dries himself off.

The bathroom door OPENS -- it's Lisa.

Lisa, holding stack of toilet paper -- sees Peter's naked body. Peter freaks out.

PETER
Wow!

STARTLED, she drops the toilet paper on the wet floor.

LISA
Sorry!

She runs out.

LISA (O.S.) (CONT'D)
(behind door)
I'm sorry, I didn't expect anybody to be in here.

Peter looks around desperately.

PETER
Ah... uhm... no problem. It's fine.
It's fine!
(beat)
I'm Peter by the way.

LISA
Oh, okay, great to meet you, I'm Lisa. But I am going. I'm not in your room anymore. Don't worry.

PETER (worrying)
Not worrying here, I'm okay.
(listens against door.)
Nice to meet you Lisa.

No response.

Peter, frustrated, makes fast rigid movements in anger, ready to punch himself or the wall.

INT. HALLWAY MEDICINE WINDOW - MORNING

The line at the medicine line is almost gone, Peter is dog tired.

Picks up pills from Naya, whose concerned at his state. She hands him his pills.

PETER Thanks.

Peter puts them in his pocket.

EXT. YARD - LATER

It's 1 p.m and the elderly are sitting in the sun, until it gets too hot and then go sit in the shadow again.

Peter sits down next to Al whose sitting alone.

AL
Where have you been, son?
I know we get up earlier than you, but this even late for you.

PETER
Sorry, sorry, did I miss anything?

AL Jack, he is trying to get with the young thing.

Al points, a YOUNG GIRL (12, crocs, dress, ponytail) stands in the middle of the yard with Jack, Jack is talking to her.

PETER
Ah man, that's disgusting.

AL
You can think so, kid, but it is nature. What I wouldn't do to ravage that woman.

PETER
You talking about that 12-year-old?

AL
You out of your mind? No, you stupid, that's the hottie's grand child, he is just trying to impress her.

Al points at SIMONE (72) walks up to the two with her walker.
Young Girl gives a hug to Simone and they continue talking.

AL (CONT'D)
Jesus, you look like shit. Thought you had them sleeping pills.

PETER
Hmmm? Oh yeah, I do.

AL
What's up with you, son?
Saw a ghost? They tend to hang out here I tell you.

PETER
No, but I fear someone else did.

AL
What you mean?

PETER
I really don't want to say it.

AL
Say it.

PETER
Nah it's embarrassing.

AL
More reason to tell me.

PETER
You are just going to make jokes.

AL
Of course.

PETER

Alright, sure, cause I feel like I have to tell someone.

(takes breath)

You know I like that girl Lisa, right?

AL

Lisa, the only girl in this godforsaken place that is the same age as you? Yeah I can see why you like her.

PETER

Well, yesterday, when I went to shower during dinner time because I can't fucking shower after 19:00 because all of you shower and go to bed after dinner and there is no warm water left-.

AL

-.I don't care, but yeah.

PETER

Lisa walked in, and I was, completely naked.

Al looks concerned at Peter.

AL

Oh, son...

Al BURSTS OUT LOUD from LAUGHING.

All the other elderly, even the hard-of-hearing ones, look up.

PETER

(shushes)

Shut up.

Al wipes a tear away.

AL

That's funny, I like that.

PETER

I noticed.

AL

Man got no more chance because you showed your package before she was interested! Must be horrifying.

Peter shakes his head.

AL (CONT'D)
 (nudges Peter)
 You know what is funny, she saw both of ours. So we have the same chance now.

PETER Shut up.

AL
 And mine gets longer with age, so I have beaten you there too.
 Besides the obvious advantage of course.

PETER (disbelief) Shut up...

Peter shakes his head.
 Lisa walks in, starts helping out an elderly person.

PETER (CONT'D)
 Shut up, man. I...
 (spots Lisa)
 I really like this girl.

AL
 Anybody hearing this guy!

The nearest bench, a DEAF MAN (80, earpiece) reading the paper, looks up, confused.

AL (CONT'D)
 Oh, of course, you don't.

Peter looks at Lisa helping Miss Kuntz out of her wheelchair.

PETER
 Nah really. She is cute...
 She seems to actually strife for something in life...
 When I look at her, I actually feel... something.
 I feel terrified being in the same room, but I feel like I would feel warm, and good, when I am with her.

Lisa spots him looking at him, this gives her stress.
 Peter gets nervous and awkward.
 Lisa hurries out of the courtyard.

Al sees the pathetic show.
Peter feels terrible that he makes her uncomfortable.

AL
You really want this girl?

Peter nods.

AL (CONT'D)
Tell me, what is the one thing you always really wanted in life?

PETER
I always wanted to be a comedian.

AL
(surprised)
A comedian?

PETER
Ah don't do that, that is mean.

Al laughs.

AL
No, I just... never mind what I thought.
(serious)
Did you ever chase that dream down?

PETER No...

AL Why?

PETER Terrified to get on stage, and tell jokes.

AL
Isn't that what you want to do?

PETER
Of course.

AL
Then why don't do it then?

PETER
Cause I am scared I am going to be shit.

AL
Don't be scared of that.
(beat)
You're gonna be shit.

PETER		AL (CONT'D)
Not really helping here.		Like really shit, especially you

AL (CONT'D)
I'm not trying to help.

Peter feels all is lost.

AL (CONT'D)
You know what is funny, I.-

Lisa pops out of nowhere, holding a pack of toilet paper.

LISA
Hey. Peter, was it right?

Lisa and Peter awkwardly shake hands.

LISA (CONT'D)
Hi, I'm Lisa. I'm a nurse. Intern nurse. I am only hear for 3 months.

PETER
Uh, yeah. We met earlier.-

LISA
(embarrassed)
Yeah, please don't talk about that.

PETER (panicked)
Oh no, I wasn't talking about that I mean the medice-.

They both turn red.

LISA
Well, actually, I do want to talk about that. But not really. I dropped all the papers on the floor when I saw...

AL
When you saw what, sweetheart?

LISA
When I fell.
And dropped all the toilet paper on the floor. It got wet and dirty. So I wanted to give you new ones.

Awkwardly she hands Peter the toilet paper stack.

PETER Thanks...

AL
Oh sweetheart, how did you fall?
Saw a mouse? Or worse, a snake?

LISA
I fell.

AL
For who? I mean, where?

LISA
Sorry, I have to go, Miss Kuntz needs me.

Lisa scurries off with pace, having to hold her badge.

Peter angrily GRABS THE PAPER and WALKS OFF.

PETER Asshole.

AL
(laughing)
That's indeed what that stuff is for.

PETER (mumbles, Al's laughs through it)

INT. PETER'S ROOM - AFTERNOON

Peter is laying in his bed, hugging the pack of toilet paper, looking up at the ceiling.

He rolls towards his nightstand. Opens DRAWER.

The stash of PILLS, has to be over 15.

KNOCK. KNOCK.

Spooked, Peter slams the DRAWER shut.

AL
(behind door)
Are you jerking off?

PETER
Fuck you.

AL
(behind door)
Is that a yes?

PETER
Go fuck yourself.

Al walks in, shields his hands.

AL
Ah, put that thing away.
(beat)
Oh, it's just your face.

Peter chuckles begrudgingly.

Al sits down on the bed like a father figure.

EMOTIONAL MUSIC:

AL (CONT'D)
(softly spoken)
Hey kiddo...

Peter is worried Al is going to give him "the talk".

AL (CONT'D)
Wanna play poker?

INT. AL'S ROOM - EVENING

A RECORD PLAYER is playing music while Peter, Al, Jack and MAGGIE (80, short, brown curls, stout) are sat around for a game of poker. Al and Jack are smoking cigars.

AL So, only like a few more weeks and your girl is gone.
What are you going to do?

PETER
Nothing. There is no chance. Before this blows over she is gonna be gone.

MAGGIE
Blows what over?

AL Girl Peter likes saw his penis in the shower.

Maggie can only giggle.

PETER
Don't tell them.

JACK
Oh yeah, that happens to me all the time.

PETER
Yeah, but your imponent but still horny.

JACK, MAGGIE, AL
(amused) Wow!

JACK That's true kid, but you don't have to rub my face in it.
(laughs)

AL
But yeah, how are you going to take action?

PETER
I'm not.

AL
(mildly annoyed)
Ah don't cry kid, it's not over until the fat lady sings.
Or until Maggie sings cause than it's time to leave.

Maggie STARTS TO SING an old tune.
Al and Jack pretend to stand up and leave.
She stops and they all laugh.

JACK Alright, show.

Al and Jack show their cards.
Al has a full house.

JACK (CONT'D)
 You see! This guy is always lucky.
 I knew he had aces.

MAGGIE
 If you knew, why did you not fold.

JACK
 I didn't want to believe it.

MAGGIE
 Just like you don't want to believe you have no shot at Auj'.

JACK
 She has been checking me out as of late, I am telling you!

MAGGIE
 It's her job to see when we should be euthanised.

AL
 (to Peter) Stage 8 of dementia, utter delusion.

Al, holding up his cigar, nudges Peter.
 Hands him a cigar, Peter nervously reaches for it, Al takes it away. Points at ceiling.

AL (CONT'D)
 Can you twist the fire alarm off before it goes off.

PETER
 Yeah sure.

MAGGIE
 You sure think that is a good idea,
 Al?

AL
 (lighting cigar)
 Shut up, woman.

Peter steps up onto the chair, MOANS LIKE OLD MAN NOISES.

AL (CONT'D)
 Look at this guy moaning like he's 73!

PETER (laughing)
Fuck you.

MAGGIE
Wish I was 73.

AL
Amen.

JACK
Amen.

Peter TWISTS the fire alarm off, puts it on a dresser, sits back at the table back down. Al hands him a cigar.

Al gets the deck, starts SHUFFLING.

JACK (CONT'D)
I don't know kid, you're as stiff as a board, all you eat is microwave meals and your social life is that of a priest. I'd say you fit quite well here at Bishop.

PETER
Well, at least when I get out of here, they won't write an obituary in the papers.

They fall silent.

JACK
(deadly serious)
You think that is funny, kid?

Peter, still chuckling.

PETER
Uh, yeah, a little.

JACK
You telling me the only way I am gonna leave here is in a body bag, and that is making you laugh?

Peter gets nervous, chuckle dies out.

AL
Don't take it serious Jack, he's just joking.

JACK
That's the problem, it's all just a joke to this snot nose.

Jack stares at Peter across the table.

JACK (CONT'D)
(laughy)
-A pretty funny joke!

They BURST OUT LAUGHING.
Al starts dealing the cards.

JACK (CONT'D)
Well kid, I didn't want to say this.

Jack looks at Al and Maggie with a grin.

MAGGIE
(serious)
Don't say it, Jack.

JACK
The kid has to know, Maggie.

PETER
(half serious) Know what?

JACK
That little lady you like so much.
Yours it not the only Johnson she has seen in this room.

PETER
(laughing)
Fuck you.

JACK
Oh and she did more than looking!

AL
Oh shut it, no chance.

JACK
She did! She touched it!

MAGGIE
I don't buy it.

JACK
She did! It slightly went up (miming his penis going erect)
And she flicked it!
(miming the flicking)

They LAUGH.

AL

Now I know your lying because yours is definitely not working.

Jack LAUGHS.

MAGGIE

So, Pete. When are you making a move on her.

Peter looks at his cards. Folds.

PETER

Ahhh. I don't know yet, I don't really feel it yet.

MAGGIE

Well you don't have all the time in the world, honey.

PETER

Why? I am going to be staying here for a while still.

MAGGIE

Oh, you defiantly are because your a mess.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)

But she is just an intern, she is gone in 2 weeks.

PETER

Only 2 weeks! Really?

Al nods, focuses back on the flop on the table.

JACK

(leans in closer)

Kid, if I was only 20 years younger I would be all over the women in this place.

AL

(looking at his cards)

Congratulations, you go from a rotting horny fucker to horny fucker with a slightly more frequent pulse.

PETER

Yeah, look out Jack, it's 2024, talk like that isn't appreciated anymore.

JACK
It's 2024?
(looks around as if he heard the most unbelievable thing)
(sigh)
I have to make a few phone calls.

They LAUGH.

INT. AL'S ROOM - EVENING

Jack and Maggie are leaving.

JACK
Oh gosh darn it, it is almost 9, they are gonna turn the lights on any minute now!

MAGGIE
Wait, my coat.

JACK
You didn't come with a coat, Mag'.

MAGGIE
Oh, yeah right

Jack and Maggie shuffle out of the room and say their goodbyes.
Al is cleaning up.

AL
Was fun having you, Peter.

AL (CONT'D)
Oh, you don't have to help.

Peter wasn't helping.

PETER
(chuckles)
Ah no problem, I gladly help.

Peter starts tidying up, but then sees a gem in the collection of vinyl's.

PETER (CONT'D)
No way.

PETER (CONT'D)
"Richard Pryor: Are you Serious?"
Are you Serious?

Al shuffles towards the collection.

AL
That's a good one.

PETER
It's great!

AL
Check this one.

PETER
Oh shit, Eddie Murphy.

Peter puts back Richard Pryor and takes Bill Cosby vinyl out.

PETER (CONT'D)
Oh, no.

AL
Oh that man is amazing.

PETER Problematic, Al.

Al HUFFS and PUFFS.
Walks away.

AL
Well who didn't slip a girl a mickey in the 90s.

PETER
Besides that, you have a great taste in comedy, Al.

Al LAUGHS.

AL
Well I sure hope so.

Al looks at Peter.
Peter looks at him.
Al smiles, waiting for Peter to say something.

AL (CONT'D)
Oh yeah right, I didn't tell you.
I was a comedian!

PETER
No way!
That is why you laughed at me when I said it.

Peter puts the album on the table.

AL

Yeah!

That, and because your a hack and will never make it, but yeah!

They laugh.

PETER

But really? You have a bit you can do?

AL

You're really asking me to perform my act right now? I'm retired.

PETER

Oh yeah, sorry.

AL

Nah I'm just jostling, I love doing my act. Let me think.

AL (CONT'D)

Oh, yeah. So, you ever go to a party, and have so many women coming up to you, more than you know what to do with them?

PETER

(excluded)

Uh, no?

AL

(looks away)

Me neither, anyways, what's with women-.

Peter laughs loudly.

PETER

Wait, I thought you were good with women.

AL

Well, they are still women and I am still a man, so I don't know what they are talking about half of the time. But I am sure as shit better with them than you.

Al starts FILLING another glass with bourbon.

PETER

True.

Peter's chuckle fades with him looking off.

AL

Don't get sad on me now, boy.

PETER

(chuckles)

No, I am not.

I was just thinking about what you said.

You really think I stand a chance?

Al hands him a glass with bourbon.

AL

Kid, one thing you have to do is relax.

Peter takes the drink.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Peter, walking back to his room, is woozy after a few drinks.

LISA (O.S.)

Peter?

Peter, shocked, looks back.

LISA (CONT'D)

(friendly)

What are you doing up this late?

You are not keeping the elderly up, are you?

PETER

(slow to respond)

Oh, hey.

Oh no, on the contrary, they are keeping me up.

LISA

Are they now?

Lisa's CHUCKLE decreases his anxiety, that and the alcohol.

PETER
(smiling)
You had to see them, they are spry, peppy... chipper. Could barely keep up.

LISA
Oh yeah? Wish I could've hang out with them.

PETER
You're not? A young pretty girl like you isn't always hanging out with 80-plus year olds on the reg'?

LISA
(giggles)
No.
(jokingly serious)
Strange right, they must not like me.

PETER
I don't believe that.

Lisa smiles softly.

ALARM.

Peter startled.

LISA
Don't worry.
(chuckles)
That must be Miss Kuntz trying to escape.

Lisa turns around and starts walking that direction.

PETER
Oh. You need help with that?

LISA (kindly)
No thank you, but I will remember that. Have a nice night.

PETER
You too.

Peter is left alone in the dark hallway, but he feels victorious.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Jack and Al play chess, Maggie watches. Jack white, Al black.

JACK

Oh I swear to you, if a 90-year-old vagina wasn't the most disgusting thing I've ever seen, I would be drowning in pussy here.

Maggie and Al are repulsed.

MAGGIE

It's too early for that, Jack.

JACK

It's 8 a.m, of course I'm fucking
horny.

Peter walks up to them.

PETER

What's up guys.

AL

Hey! If it isn't our residential Suicidal Suzy.

Naya looks up, very worried what Al said.

PETER

It's okay, Naya.

Naya is uncomfortable and continues what she's doing.

PETER (CONT'D)

What is the plan today lads?
We still have some alcohol from Al's?

MAGGIE

Ah sorry kid, I am still hungover from poker.

PETER

It's been 2 days.

MAGGIE

Exactly
(looks over his glasses)
Only.

AL
Not today son, we sticking with the program.
(moves chess piece) Checkmate.

JACK Fucking bastard, I swear your pieces are faster.

Aujla enters.

AUJLA
Alright, everybody who has signed up for swimming, follow me, the bus is out front.

Al, Maggie and Jack stand up (with some difficulty).

AL
You going to join us, or could you clean up our game?

Peter looks around.

PETER
Ahh, I really don't feel like coming

AL
Up to you kid.

PETER
Besides, I haven't packed for any swimming.

AL Kid, you can pack your bag, walk to the public pool at your own pace, swim a few laps, and you done before any of them are on the bus.

They look at the many residents who move towards Aujla like a scene from 'The Night of the Living Dead'.

PETER
I think you're right.

INT. SWIMMING HALL - DAY

Seniors in their bathing suits are doing their exercises, led by Aujla in the pool.

Shyly, a pale scrawny Peter comes out the locker rooms.

Climbs in the pool and joins Al and Jack. He feels awkward because the female elderly are rubbernecking and ogling him.

PETER
(whisper to Al)
Why are they all looking at me?

AL
Because your skin is still attached to your flesh.

JACK
Don't question it kid, I don't think you ever had so many women check you out like that before.

Peter is awkward and uncomfortable, but tries to embrace it.
Starts doing the exercises with the elderly.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Book club time, elderly have a book on there lap.
Peter is seated next to Maggie.

PETER
(in Maggie's ear)
What are we doing now?

MAGGIE
A book club.

PETER
Shit, I haven't read the book.

MAGGIE
Here, read mine.
Won't take you that long.

Maggie hands him his book.
Every page has 1 letter the size of the entire paper printed on it. Peter is leafing through it really quick.

INT. HALL - DAY

Tables are set for Bingo, STEEL BINGO DRUM filled with BALLS.

AUJLA
42... 42... last callout. 42.

Elderly are either STAMPING bingo cards or looking through their big glasses at Aujla holding up the ball, squinting.

NEXT NUMBER ROLLS OUT.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
12... 12-.

PETER
Bingo! Bingo motherfuckers!

Peter is holding up his bingo card for everybody to see. The elderly look back at Peter, a bit surprised.

PETER (CONT'D)
Uhm. Bingo.
(cough)
I have bingo.

Peter looks around, shows it to the person next to him.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - EVENING

Lisa sits with BETTY (80) on the couch, trying to help her with their new phone but she can't make heads or tails out of it either.

Peter and Al enter.

PETER
(to Al)
You guys do this everyday?

AL
Every Tuesday, fortunately. Or else it would get too much for me too.

PETER
I get that, I'm exhausted.

Al spots Lisa, nudges Peter.
Al smiles, gives Peter a pat on the shoulder, walks off.

Peter takes a deep breath.
Walks up to Lisa.

LISA
(to Betty)
Have you inserted the sim-card?

BETTY
The what?

LISA
The sim-card?

BETTY
Uuh I think so, that goes here-.

PETER
-.You ladies need some help?

Lisa looks back, smiles.

LISA
Yes, Betty here wants to transfer her contacts from her old phone to her new phone but it's not working.

PETER
I would be glad too.

Peter sits down.

PETER (CONT'D)
Have you transported all your old contacts with all your chats?

BETTY (desperately searching her phone)
I... who... where do I...

PETER
Oh wait, I don't want to be a
'mansplaining' anything here.

Peter looks up at Betty with an awaiting smile, but gets given a glassy look back.
Peter looks at Lisa with an "okay, nevermind" face.
Lisa GIGGLES.

PETER (CONT'D)
May I see your phone, Betty?

PETER (CONT'D)
Don't worry, you will be messaging your grandchildren in no time.

Betty smiles happily, that's all she wants.
Lisa looks up and down from the phone to Peter, smiling.

PETER (CONT'D)
Just have to connect...
(pretends it is psychically tough)
The mainframe to the hyper-core
(MORE)

PETER (CONT'D)
(moans)
Break through the firewall, and...
Voilà.

PETER (CONT'D)
Here, all your contacts and chats should be there.

Betty grabs it and can't believe the miracle she just witnessed. Lisa looks just as happy.

LISA
Isn't that great, Betty?

BETTY
Wonderful, they are all there.

Shows profile picture of her 15 year old grand child.

BETTY (CONT'D)
I will bake a pie for you, young man.

PETER
Oh, Betty, you don't have to do that.

Mimes that he would push it away if it was offered.

PETER (CONT'D)
Make it apple.

Betty smiled and Lisa GIGGLES.

PETER (CONT'D)
I am gonna leave you girls to it.

Peter stands up and walks off, his heart beating a thousand times a minute. Lisa holds Betty.

LISA
(to Betty)
I'll be back in a sec.

Walks after Peter.

LISA (CONT'D)
Peter!

In the background, Jack and Maggie are watching,
enthusiastic.

LISA (CONT'D)
That was really nice of you. Why don't you sit with us a bit longer?
I don't believe Betty would be opposed.

PETER
Oh yeah... Uh. Well, I just finished the normal Tuesday routine of the residents, and honestly, I am dead.

LISA
(chuckles) Can't keep up with some octogenarians?

Jack and Maggie are cheering quietly in the background because Peter made her laugh.

PETER
You try it! Those folks are relentless!

LISA
Maybe I should.

Jack and Maggie have trouble keeping in their excitement.

Lisa looks at Peter with charming eyes.
Peter gulps.

PETER
But let's do it together, we young people have to band together against the boomers.
(beat)
Their is a dance workshop Thursday and I can use your help.

LISA
(chuckles)
Alright I'm up for a challenge.
(realizes) Oh wait, I am not working this coming Thursday.
(beat)
But I think I can come either way.

PETER
Great! Looking forward to it.

LISA
Me too.

Peter just smiles at her.
Jack and Maggie are cheering.
Lisa looks at him, waiting for the next charming thing to come out of his mouth.

PETER
So. I am gonna leave then.

Jack and Maggie, dejected.

LISA
Oh. Okay.
(chuckle)
Bye.

PETER
Bye.

Jack and Maggie face palm.
Lisa smiles while he walks off, and joins back up with Betty.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - LATER

Peter walks in his room, and shuts the door.
Exhales deeply, between jubilation and cringe.

INT. HALLWAY - DAY

Peter knocks on Al's door, but he isn't there.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

Peter and the elderly are watching a rerun of an episode 30 of season 1 of "I Dream of Jeanie".

PETER (bored)
Why are we watching the amnesia episode again.
(beat)
Don't say you guys don't remember it.

GILBERT (80), in charge of the remote.

GILBERT
(frustrated)
Because I haven't seen this one yet in colour.

Peter sighs, falls back in his chair, horizontal, contrasting the rigid elderly.

ON TV: Husband sitting in a comfortable chair while Jeanie is on her knees beside him.

JEANIE (Television)
I hope your comfortable, master.

ELDERLY WOMAN (80), squinting at the TV.

ELDERLY WOMAN
Why doesn't she get to sit?

Gilbert ignores her.

PETER
(tongue and cheek)
Yeah, why doesn't she get to sit.
And why does she call him 'master'?

GILBERT (annoyed)
That is just the show.

PETER
A very sexist show, yeah.

The elderly MURMUR.

GILBERT
All the shows were like that, deal with it!

Aujla enters.

AUJLA
Alright everybody, time to go to the supermarket.

INT. SUPERMARKET - DAY

The elderly are taking a trip to do some shopping and to experience real life.

They are in awe how big the supermarkets have gotten. Rows and rows of allies stretched until infinitum.

JACK (O.S.)
I think only half of us are gonna make it out alive.

SENIOR (O.S.)
Where are the free samples?!

The elderly shuffle into the store.

INT. SUPERMARKET - LATER

Jack is standing in the fresh produce section

JACK
You see this, no American flags or anything. Nothing is made in the USA anymore. Look at this.
(grabs mandarins)
You see, Morocco.
(grabs yoghurt) Greece.

NAYA
(quietly)
Well it is 'Greek Yoghurt'.

JACK (grabs a piece package of corn)
And where is this made.
(squints eyes to read) Maca-. Monte...

Naya takes a glimpse.

NAYA Montana.

INT. SUPERMARKET - LATER

Peter walks through the supermarket, unbothered or unaffected by the world around him.

MAGGIE (O.S.)
Four dollars for milk!

Peter notices the commotion.
Maggie is holding the carton of milk in front of Aujla.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)
Back in my day it was 1 dollar a bottle.
(remembers)
And they would bring it to your door!

AUJLA

Yes, Maggie, you say this every time.

MAGGIE

Well... That's because I am very passionate about this issue.

Peter sees Al in the pickle aisle.

PETER

Hey Al, where were you this morning?

AL

Hold on, son.

(picks up jar of pickles)

Look at this, spicy-sour-sweet pickles. Who has that specific a taste in pickles? Just pick a kind.

(points at pickles)

And look at this, sour, sweet, sweet sour, spicy, in pieces, in smaller pieces, in bigger pieces... Why are there so many choices? What happened to the choice: "Pickles"... or "no pickles"?

PETER

Working on new material?

Al gives Peter the stink-eye.

AL

Maybe.

AL (CONT'D)

What you want?

PETER

Oh, talk about Lisa. It went great yesterday, I made her laugh and she even wanted to talk some more.

AL

But you fear you fucked up?

PETER

What-.

Peter gets tapped on his right shoulder. He looks back, it's Kuntz.

MISS KUNTZ

-.Hey there young man, could you do me a favour and hand me that tin of tuna from the top shelf please?

PETER

Oh yeah sure, no problem.

Peter grabs the tuna Miss Kuntz is pointed to. He puts it in her basket, besides the other 10 identical tuna cans.

MISS KUNTZ

Thank you young man.

Miss Kuntz wanders off while Peter looks confused. Peter catches up with Al who is hunched over his cart and pushing it along.

PETER

How do you know I fucked up with Lisa?

AL

Jack and Maggie' told me.

PETER

What is this place, a fucking high school?

AL

In many ways.

AL (CONT'D)

Pete, you did well, but now it's time to chain this girl down, strike while the iron is hot.

PETER

Don't call me 'Pete'.

AL

Pete, trust me, you think I have trouble getting women?

Peter has the look as if he bit in sour apple, looking at the old decrepit Al.

AL (CONT'D)

When I was younger of course, know-it-all.

PETER

Ah, yeah.

AL

Make your intentions known, don't get koi with her. Before you know it, she is gone.

Al pushes his cart along and leaves Peter to think.

His thinking is short lived because Miss Kuntz walks up to him.

MISS KUNTZ

Hello young man, could you do me a pleasure and give me one of those tins of tuna from the top.

Miss Kuntz's cart is still full of tuna.
Peter looks at Miss Kuntz, back at the Tuna and straight ahead.

INT. BALLROOM - DAY

Thursday dance workshop is starting.

The female residents wear their skirts that hang all the way down to their ankles.

Peter wearing sports clothes and Lisa wearing grey shirt yoga pants.

PETER

You better strap in, these people get wild.
You got a defibrillator by hand by any chance?

LISA

(giggling)
You can't say that.

PETER

I'm just saying, it can come in handy.

Peter stretches, painful moan.

LISA

Is that why you are here? You are just a young person with the body of an 80-year-old?

PETER

(laughs)

I said we need that defibrillator didn't I?

(surprised)

Wait you don't know why I'm-

NAYA

-.Alright ladies and gentleman,
Everybody, find your partner.

The elderly start pairing up, but through the residents, pushing people aside -- is MURIEL (80).

MURIEL

Let me be with the young fish.

Muriel stops right in front of Peter.

Muriel starts dancing passionately, left and right, hands up and down.

MURIEL (CONT'D)

(dancing)

I need a young man to match my energy.

Make me feel like the woman I am.

Make me young again-.

CRACK.

A gasp in the room.

Muriel is frozen in her last dance move.
Grabs her back, even though her dexterity is seemingly halved.

INT. BALLROOM - LATER

Ambulance workers are taking Muriel out on a stretcher.

Peter and Lisa sitting in a corner by themselves.

PETER

Sorry that there wasn't that much dancing. I didn't know I had this much power over women.

PETER (CONT'D)

You also wasted your day off for this.

LISA (softly)
No it's fine, I had a good time.

Peter nods, looks away, stressed.

PETER
So, when are you working again.

LISA
Working the nightshift tomorrow.

PETER
Oh really?

LISA
Yeah, it's kinda boring.

PETER
Hmmm. Yeah.
I can see that.
The elderly don't tend to do much during the night.
Or even during the day for that matter.

LISA (giggles) Yeah.

PETER Yeah.

The two sit awkwardly beside each other, looking in the distance.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - EVENING

Peter is laying on his bed, looking up at the ceiling. Not a wink slept.

PETER (V.O.)
Why didn't you just ask her to hang out?
You could have been watching a movie right now. You could tell her you like her.
No, that is way too soon.
But you won't ever get so far if you don't hang out with her.

All of sudden, convulsions out of anger.

PETER
(under breath)
Fucking stupid piece of shit.

Stops.

He has to be brave, he gets out of bed.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Peter walks through the empty dark hallways.

He makes his way to the nurses breakroom.

Through the windows in the hallway, lit up by fluorescent lighting, he sees a tired Lisa, pouring herself a cup of coffee.

Peter walks back, hidden from her view.
He tries to gather bravery to talk to her.

INT. NURSE BREAKROOM - LATER

Lisa is drinking her coffee.

PETER Hey.

Startled, Lisa almost pours the coffee over herself.

PETER (CONT'D)
Oh sorry!

LISA
No problem.

Lisa wipes off the coffee from her lips.

LISA (CONT'D)
Sorry, normally the elderly are not up this late.

PETER
I get it, it's almost 21:00.

LISA
(giggles) Yeah.

PETER
We are not great at running into each other, are we?

LISA
Please, don't remind me of that.
(chuckles while looking at Peter)
You want a cup too, or you couldn't sleep?

PETER
Ah nah, thanks. Yeah, whenever I can't sleep I just watch a movie, that works.

LISA
Use the TV in the social room, no one is using it now.

PETER
Yeah good idea. Finally don't have to watch "I dream of Jeannie" reruns.

LISA (laughs)
Yeah true.

Peter smiles. Looks around.

Lisa is just leaning against the counter.

Peter takes a breath and exhales.

PETER
So yeah...
(beat)
You wanna watch a film with me?

LISA
Oh... Uh... well I am working.

PETER
And I see you're busy.

LISA
(chuckles)
True.
What movie are you watching?

She takes a sip holding the cup with both hands.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

A never before seen dark social space, with only the light from the TV bouncing back against Peter and Lisa.

Halfway through the movie, Peter is sweating.
His eyes dart up and down over Lisa.

His feeble arm floats towards Lisa's back, feeling like it is taking minutes.
Finally, he dares to touch her and stop hovering.

She leans into him.

Peter's heart is pounding in his chest.

Lisa looks up at Peter.
He looks down. She is giving him big promiscuous eyes.
This has to be the sign, this has to be it.

Peter bents down to get ready for the kiss.
She kisses him back.

They turn their heads, and she snuggles even closer to Peter.

EXT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME

Establishing shot afternoon.

INT. AL'S ROOM - AFTERNOON

Al is at his table, writing on some yellow pages.

Peter knocks at Al's door.

PETER (O.S.)
(behind door)
You jerking off?

AL
(without looking up)
I wish.

Peter walks in, he's jolly.

PETER
I had the best night.

AL
Uhuh.

PETER
Everything went perfect and I even Put my hand around her waist.-
What are you doing?

AL
Writing down a joke I had.

PETER
I thought you didn't feel like you have to go on stage anymore?

AL
Yeah... but you never stop writing, you either write, or you don't.

PETER
Makes sense I guess.
What is the joke?

AL
Ah nothing, something about that blacks and Asians are getting too comfortable in today's society.

Peter looks at him with worry.
Al SIGHS.

AL (CONT'D)
It's about not being strong enough to open a can of soup in old age. I mean, a can of soup? Isn't that ironic?

PETER Workshop that.

AL
That wasn't the fucking joke.
Anyways, why are you acting all gay and fruity?

Al puts the paper away.

PETER
It went amazing yesterday evening.
I proposed we watch a movie and she said she was down. Halfway through the movie.
(mimes his hand)
Bang. Hand around her waist.
She leans into me.
She is eyeing me.
I don't know what it means, but I just making the gamble that it is
"those" eyes, you know.
I lean in to kiss her.
Bob's your uncle.

AL
That's great, kid.
We should celebrate it.
What do you say we celebrate by pranking some of the elderly?

PETER
Yeah!
And actually funny ones instead of the soup can joke!

AL
I haven't even told you the fucking joke yet.

MONTAGE STARTS

INT. RESIDENT'S ROOM - DAY

Peter drops DENTURES into a glass of lemon juice, scurries out of the room.

RESIDENT (80) walks in from the bathroom.
Puts in dentures.

YELLS with a sour look on her face.

Peter and Al LAUGH.

INT. AL'S BATHROOM - DAY

Al is collapsed on the floor in his bathrobe facing down.
Lisa and Peter are standing in the hallway.

Naya walks in with some folded up towels.

NAYA
Al!

Naya drops the towels and bends down to see Al's face.

Al SLAPS SHAVING CREAM in Naya's face.

AL
I'm not dead yet, bitch!

She stumbles on the floor.
Lisa and Peter share a laugh together.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Peter and Al are sitting in the corner in a full social space filled with all the elderly.

PETER
You sure this is going to work?

AL
If they remember.

Peter looks at Al, Al looks back, both worried.
They shrug shoulders.

The clock strikes 19:00.

PETER Now.

Al presses his Life-Alert button.
All the other elderly follow.

THIRTY LIFE SUPPORTS BEEP.

PETER (CONT'D)
(whispers)
I'm just happy Lisa is not working tonight.

INT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME

Tens of AMBULANCES RACE up on the parking lot.

They fight and HONK over who gets to the entrance first.

END MONTAGE.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - MORNING

Peter wakes up happy.

INT. HALLWAY MEDICINE WINDOW - LATER

Peter picks up his drugs.
He doesn't really know what to do with his pills.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - EVENING

Peter is laying on his bed.

He feels in his pocket for the sleeping and anti-depressants pills.

Begrudgingly, he DROPS THEM IN THE GLASS BOWL with the rest.

Well past a lethal amount of sleeping pills at this point.

He grabs his phone and TEXTS Al.

CHAT:

P "You up?"

A "Me?."

P "Yeah, who else? this is a private text"

P "wanna hang out?"

A "ye eg re vam"

P "???"

A "Can awoe eaoq s a"

P "Idk what ur saying."

"Al is typing..."

...

"Al is typing..."

Peter sighs.

"Al is typing..."

A "type ring is hard"

P "I will come over."

END CHAT.

INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT

Peter and Al are sneaking through the hallway.

They pass the nurse breakroom while multiple nurses are on break.

NAYA

Me and Aujla had to tell every single one of the paramedics to go home, and I tell you, they were not happy.

The two have to avoid getting caught while passing past the door, of which only the top part is opened.

Peter crawls underneath it easily.

NAYA (CONT'D)

And you know what happened, after all of them left?

Miss Cannella, from B-12.

Heart attack.

Yep, spontaneous heart attack and we immediately started pressing the Life Alert. And I honestly didn't know if they would come or not. I wanted to call and ask "hey, excuse me, is there a ambulance on the way for Bishop Grunge?"

Al slowly bends down, sits on his knees, lays on his back.

Al pushes himself forward with his legs, sliding over the floor.

He makes his way over there and Peter, holding in his laugh, helps Al back on his feet.

EXT. PARK - LATER

Peter and Al look out over a pond. They are smoking cigars.

PETER

It's been going... Amazingly.

Lisa is so... warm...

And I just feel...

(sighs)

I can't explain it.

AL

You are liking your time in the Nursing home then, I see?

PETER

You know what, I actually am.

AL

That's great to hear.

Al looks back at the pond.
Peter does too.

Together they enjoy the shimmer in the water.

AL (CONT'D)
I got cancer.

Peter is shocked.
Al LAUGHS.

PETER
(careful laugh)
You're kidding...?

Al has a hard time stopping with LAUGHING.

AL
(wipes tear away)
Oooh.
Nah, it's pretty bad.

PETER
Bro, you can't make jokes about that.

AL
All of a sudden we can't make jokes about things.

PETER
Nah man. That's... That's. I don't know.

AL
You can't make jokes about it, I can.

PETER
But are you for real?

AL (exhales)
Yeah. Was diagnosed two years ago.

PETER
What type, if I may ask.

AL
You may not.
(beat) Lungs.

PETER

Oh. I'm really sorry, Al. That, that really breaks my heart to hear.

Al nods, the jokes are gone.

PETER (CONT'D)

Is there nothing more they can do?

AL

Few weeks ago, same day you came to the home actually, doctor phoned me and told me it had spread.

PETER

Really?

AL

Yeah.

(pretends to remember)

I told them it's probably your fault.

Peter chuckles painfully.

Al has a delayed CHUCKLE.

PETER

I remember that actually. I saw you sitting outside in the yard. You were so... so... sad.

AL

Easy boy.

PETER

But after that, you've been all smiles. How?

AL

I don't take it so serious.

PETER

(stumped)

Serious? How can you not take it serious?

AL

I don't. It's been fun.

And it fucking hurts by the way.

Takes a puff of his cigar.

Al looks out on the pond.

Peter puts his arm on Al's shoulder to comfort him.

AL (CONT'D)
Don't touch me.

Peter let's go.

PETER
Sorry.

Peter looks out to where Al is looking.

PETER (CONT'D)
Can we at least do something fun?

AL Like what?

PETER
Comedy club.

AL
We can go to a comedy club.

PETER
We can bring the residents, and all can go! And you can do stand up...
(beat)
And I can try it.

AL
I like a good idea, son.
But they don't want the elderly out that late.

PETER
Oh, shit... Really?
Hmmm.

AL
Unless we bust them out.

Peter looks at Al, gets excited.

INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT

Peter and Al return and have to pass the nurse breakroom again.

NAYA (O.S.)
I say to him, "you can make your own damn dinner"

Peter lays on his back like Al did, smiling.
Al shakes his head.

GILL (O.S.)
Preach girl.

Peter pushes himself over the ground like Al did before, tries to hold in his laugh.

NAYA (O.S.) (CONT'D)
And then he responds with: "But I thought you like caring for people".

Al bends down and carefully lays on his back too.
The NURSES GASP.

NAYA (O.S.) (CONT'D)
You know what I said?
"I care for people, I don't care
for you."

NURSES LAUGH.
Al is pushing his way to the other side.

GILL (O.S.)
You work the overnight shift and he truly expects you to make him a gourmet meal for him too?

Al makes it and Peter helps Al back on his feet.
They scurry away quietly.

NAYA (O.S.)
And fuck him too. The pig.

CUT TO:

INT. NURSE BREAKROOM - CONTINUOUS

Nurse Naya, Nurse Gill (37) and Lisa are sitting at the breakroom table. None of them having noticed Peter or Al pass.

NAYA
But enough about my sad excuse of a husband, how's marriage treating you, Gill?

GILL
Don't get me started.

The WOMEN LAUGH.

NAYA
Well say, Gill.

GILL
No serious, don't get me started, I don't want to talk about it.
Men are just pissing me off lately.

NAYA Lately?

Gill CHUCKLES.

GILL
You're right.

Gill looks at Lisa.

GILL (CONT'D)
Lisa, whatever you do, don't interact with men.

NAYA
Go lesbian, girl. Its simpler.

Lisa LAUGHS NERVOUSLY.

NAYA (CONT'D)
But seriously, how is it going with you and the boys. Pretty girl like you has lined them up I assume.

Lisa's cheeks turn red.

LISA
Well... not exactly.
I've never been looking, you know,
being more focused on school.
(beat)
But, to be honest, I started seeing someone.

Naya and Gill get excited, Lisa a bit more shy.

NAYA
Aaaah shit, new love. Tell us girl.

LISA
I... I don't know what to tell you.

GILL
(sarcastic)
She is seeing that suicidal boy from B13, the local celebrity.

Naya LAUGHS.

Lisa gets nervous and sinks in her chair.

GILL (CONT'D)
Nah for real, what is he like?

LISA
I... uhm...

GILL
(serious)
You are not really dating that Peter guy, right?

LISA
No! Of course not. No I can tell you. His name is John.
He is sweet, and cute. And helpful.

NAYA
How did you guys meet?

Lisa looks off, nervous.

LISA
We met at the movies.

CUT TO:

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - NIGHT

Peter and Lisa are watching a film, cuddling.

LISA
You know...
I wasn't looking for anything serious...

PETER
What do you mean?

LISA
Well, I wasn't looking for a boyfriend, on the contrary.

PETER Oh...

LISA
I just wanted to focus on school, get my credits, study, nail my SATs.

PETER

Oh, I'm sorry.

LISA

(laughing)

You don't have to be sorry.

I like that I met you.

You...

I... I always worry how I people look at me. I don't go out because I don't drink like other people, because I want to promote a healthy lifestyle. I need to, I want to be a doctor, but I don't know if I have it in me. And I fear people think the same.

PETER

You will make an amazing doctor.

LISA

-And you walk around in your wrinkly t-shirt, prank people, make jokes you cannot make...
You don't seem to care.

PETER

Thanks.

LISA

(chuckling)

That is not what I mean.

I mean, I need more of that sometimes, I think.

They look at each other.

When their lips are close to touching, Lisa pulls back.

LISA (CONT'D)

Sorry.

PETER

What's wrong?

LISA

Nothing. Nothing.

PETER

Do I stink?

LISA

No, no no.

It's just...

I think I stink.

PETER
You don't stink, you smell great actually.

LISA
It's my breath, I haven't brushed today. The entire day.

PETER
I never brush my teeth.

Lisa pulls herself up, shock in her eyes.

PETER (CONT'D)
I mean used to, now I do. Everyday.
Ignore that.

LISA
I think it's better if we don't kiss tonight.

PETER
Oh, okay... Yeah...
I hope I didn't do anything wrong.

LISA
No you didn't, please, let's just keep it here. Let's just finish the movie.

Lisa leans back into Peter.

PETER Okay.

PETER (V.O.)
Why did you tell her you used to not brush your teeth, of course she doesn't want to kiss you.
She is probably angry about the ambulance prank.
But she likes that I do things like
that.
Or did I go too far?
I probably went too far.
I should know where to stop.

EXT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME FRONT DOOR - NIGHT

The streetlights are shining and it is quiet in the nursery home parking lot.

Peter QUIETLY OPENS a SIDE DOOR of the nursery home.
He peeks his head out and checks if the coast is clear.

He steps out, after him, a group of elderly residents with multiple layers of clothing follow.

They walk onto the parking lot -- BRIGHT LIGHT, lighting them up and they stand like deers in headlights.

It is the nursery home's PASSENGER BUS, REVVING it's engine.

The doors open and out steps the DRIVER (40), he signals that they can come inside.

The elderly get in one by one, while Al hands the Driver three of his COMEDY RECORDS as a payment for helping them out.

INT. COMEDY CLUB - EVENING

Islands of candle light illuminate the tables, making the mood warm, cosy and intimate. A thick cloud of smoke embalms the room.

The elderly are spread amongst the many tables, their many layers of clothing folded over their chairs.

A COMEDIAN (40) is standing on stage performing his hour.

COMEDIAN

I don't need much in life.
I truly don't.
The only thing I need, is someone that is doing worse than me.

(beat)

If I am like "girlfriend broke up with me after a 2 year relationship."

I want the other person to go:
"My dad killed my mom with a soldering iron when I was 7."

(beat)

I am like:
(putting hand on imaginary person)
"Thank you."

The AUDIENCE LAUGHS.

The elderly point at Peter, and Peter repeats the joke in the elderly's person ear next to him.

COMEDIAN (CONT'D)
 (points at Peter) See this man bought his girlfriend with him.

The ELDERLY AND PETER BURST OUT LAUGHING.

COMEDIAN (CONT'D)
 You guys can't see this, but this, what, 15 year old kid is repeating the jokes in the ears of a, of a.
 Sorry miss, I don't want to assume your age, but how old are you if I may ask.

ELDERLY WOMAN What?

COMEDIAN
 (laughing)
 She can't hear me.
 You're age sweetheart, what's your age?

ELDERLY WOMAN 83.

COMEDIAN
 (suprised)
 83!
 And you, son?

PETER 24.

COMEDIAN
 That sounds weirdly illegal, but I can't blame you.
 No, but serious, are you his grandma?

PETER
 Not related.

COMEDIAN (burst out laughing)
 "not related"!

COMEDIAN (CONT'D)
 And you just thought, I am stealing this woman from her bed and take her to a comedy club.

PETER

Exactly!

COMEDIAN

And I see you brought your whole posse here, what is your guys group called? Instead of "The Expendables" you're 'The Expired'?

THE ELDERLY LAUGH, SOME UNSURE MURMURS IN THE BACK.

CUT TO:

INT. NURSE BREAKROOM

The nurses are seated at their breakroom table.

AUJLA

I told him I would meet him in his room at 9 for some "roll in the hay".

GILL

Jack said that?

AUJLA

Yep.
So I did.

Lisa can't believe it.

GILL

Wait, you actually went there?

AUJLA

Yep.
(beat)
But only 10:30. I knew he was dead a sleep by then.

The nurses LAUGH.

GILL

I don't get how he is going for you so relentlessly.

(beat)

Sorry, that's not what I mean, you are a hot piece of ass Auj', but he has to give up at some point, no?

AUJLA

I don't know either.

GILL
It's kinda cute though.

AUJLA
(laughs)
Yeah it is, isn't it?

Aujla is fantasizing.
Gill looks over at Lisa.

GILL
And you, Lisa, how's it going with your boyfriend?

LISA
My boyfriend? I don't have a boyfriend?

AUJLA
Wait, you have a boyfriend?

LISA
No, I don't, I-

GILL
Oh yeah? Well who did I see you cuddling with in the social room?

Aujla makes excited NOISES.
Lisa wants to sink through the floor.

BACK TO:

INT. COMEDY CLUB

COMEDIAN
Thank you, thank you.
Now it is that time to invite some people up on stage to do 5 minutes.

Comedian looks around the room.

Peter nudges Al.
Al shakes his head.

COMEDIAN (CONT'D)
I see this gentleman over here is excited. What's your name, sir?

AL
Al.

The ELDERLY CHEER LOUD for Al.

COMEDIAN

You brought your fans with you I see. Well get on here you geezer.

Al stands up and marches up on stage.

Comedian hands him the microphone, bends in to whisper in his ear.

Al pats the Comedian on the back in a way of saying "I got this."

Peter looks up at Al in anticipation while the AUDIENCE IS CLAPPING for Al.

AL

Anybody else here who after their 5 colonoscopy exam is like...

(looks up, turns head)

You know what? It's not bad.

Audience is confused and silent, but the OLD MEN in the crowd
ROOT and LAUGH.

AL (CONT'D)

These guys know what I am talking about!

AUDIENCE LAUGHS.

INT. NURSE BREAKROOM - NIGHT

GILL

No, but seriously, are you dating Peter? You can be honest.

LISA

I can, but do I want to be?

GILL

(chuckles)

You can. But be honest. There is nothing wrong with dating Peter.

Lisa looks down, avoiding eye-contact at all costs.

GILL (CONT'D)

But you know... Dating a Highgrove local celebrity... especially one like Peter.

LISA

Local celebrity?

KNOCKING.

The nurses are spooked, look at door.

Miss Kuntz, arms shaking.

AUJLA

Betty, what are you doing up?

MISS KUNTZ

(upper lip shaking)

Everybody, left.

AUJLA

What you mean everybody left?

MISS KUNTZ

(looking around)

Peter rounded everybody up to go to a comedy club.

AUJLA

What?!

Aujla stands up and goes to check on the residents.
Lisa and Gill follow her.

INT. COMEDY CLUB - LATER

AL

"Your now one of those hip-sters"
he said.

(annoyed, rolls eyes)

That was the last time I went to the orthopaedic surgeon.

(beat)

That. And I didn't have any more hips to replace.

AUDIENCE LAUGHS.

AL (CONT'D)

Thank you all.

Al and Peter make eye contact with Peter wiping a tear away from laughter.

AL (CONT'D)

I would like to introduce you to your next comedian of the night.

Peter shakes his head.

AL (CONT'D)
He's a bit of a woos, but at least he's funny.
Give a warm welcome to Peter Berry!

The AUDIENCE, especially the ELDERLY CHEER him on.

Peter makes his way on stage to the SOUND OF CHEERING.
Al hands Peter the microphone.

AL (CONT'D)
(whisper)
Don't worry, it's not going to kill you.

Al walks off stage.

Peter is surprised how many people's faces he can actually see.

PETER
Hey... I'm Peter Berry...

UPROAR from the ELDERLY.
Peter BLUSHES and CHUCKLES.

PETER (CONT'D)
That's a lot of people...
(cough)
I am almost gonna pass out, honestly...

CROWD RATTLE
(whisper)
That's probably that kid that stays in the old folk's home.
(other person)
You think so, I mean, could be.

Peter notices the rattle, but ignores it.

PETER
I actually have a story about me passing out.
(beat) Yeah, I do...

The comedy club is dead quiet, broken by an awkward cough by Peter.

PETER (CONT'D)
 (pretending to be someone in the crowd)
 "passing out story, I boy would I love to hear that!"
 (normal voice)
 You got it stranger!

Audience SNICKERS.

PETER (CONT'D)
 As you know I have bangin' body.
 (gestures over his non-spectacular body)
 But you don't get this like that.
 Nah, you have to work for it.
 Believe it or not, I used to be a great big fat person.
 But I found a way to diet. And I think it is brilliant.
 But my diet is.
 (slower) Eat nothing. Don't take in a single calorie.
 (faster)
 And excercise as much as you can.

The audience can understand how stupid that is.

PETER (CONT'D)
 And all you can do is lose weight!
 (beat)
 But. You will pass out every other
 5 to 10 minutes.

Some LAUGHS go around the room.

INT. CAR - NIGHT

Aujla is rushing through the streets, Lisa is in the passenger seat.

AUJLA
 You think it's the one on Trixton?

LISA
 I guess? I don't know of any other comedy club in town.

AUJLA
 I can't believe Peter would do
 this.
 Did you know about this?

LISA
No, no I didn't. But I wish he told me.

AUJLA
I just don't understand that boy.
I don't know how to care for him.
I know how to care for elderly in diapers, but not suicidal teenagers.
(remembers)
Sorry, Lisa. I don't-.

LISA
(quietly)
No, it's fine, I get it.

INT. COMEDY CLUB

Dead silence.

PETER
You ever see people walking through the rain?

Peter mimes people walking through the rain, shrugged up shoulders, head turtled up.

PETER (CONT'D)
What's up with that?
It doesn't get you less wet, right.

Awkward silence.
Until Al BURSTS OUT LAUGHING, laughing at Peter's misfortune.

Peter can laugh at himself bombing too.
But his smile breaks in two when he sees Aujla and Lisa walk in.

EXT. COMEDY CLUB STREET - LATER

The nurses are driving back and from the nursery home, transporting a handful of seniors back home in their cars.
The healthiest seniors will be taxi'd last and the most unfit first.

Al is one of the first to be taken by Naya.
Al is COUGHING PROFUSELY, but also laughing

AUJLA

I can't believe you went out this late, and even in to a smoke filled comedy club, especially in what condition you are in.

AL

(between coughs)
It was fun though.

Aujla shakes head.

AUJLA

(to Peter)

And you, don't drag the elderly to something you care about. If any of them are sick, or anything, I will talk to Doctor Wince about your stay here.

(beat)

You stay here as the last one, in the cold because we don't have to worry about you dying, and you think about what you did.

Peter, could sink through the ground.

Aujla helps the oldest and most feeble of residents in her car.

Lisa helps one of the seniors putting on their jacket.

Peter walks up to Lisa, but Lisa doesn't want to talk.

INT. CAR - LATER

Aujla is driving. with the healthiest senior, Jack, in the passenger seat.
Peter and Lisa in the back seat.

JACK

I for one think.-

AUJLA

-Not now, Jack.

Peter and Lisa do not talk, both of them are looking through their windows, seeing the streetlights fly by and the snow accumulating on the streets.

INT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME LOBBY - LATER

The elderly are put to bed and the nurses that have been making overtime are finally leaving.

Lisa is putting her jacket on.

LISA
Bye, see you tomorrow.

GILL
Bye, and thanks for staying late.

LISA
No problem!

Lisa walks off towards the front entrance.

PETER
Can we talk?

Lisa continues, pretending not to hear.

PETER (CONT'D)
Please.

Lisa puts her hand on the door hinge.
She thinks, looks out over the parking lot out front.

PETER (CONT'D)
There is something I have to tell you.

Lisa looks up, SIGHS.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - LATER

Peter opens the door to his room for Lisa.

Lisa walks in and sits on his bed.

Peter gets a MESSAGE on his phone.
JACK: "She angry?"

Peter opens his nightstand drawer, the life-threatening amount of PILLS RATTLE. He puts his phone inside the nightstand and closes the drawer.

PETER
You want some tea?

Lisa shakes her head.
Peter sits down next to her.

PETER (CONT'D)
They had a lot of fun-.

LISA
I can't believe you just sneak the residents out like that.

PETER
But it went fine.

LISA
But if it didn't? If they got hurt, or if any of them had an emergency? They could've died, Peter.

Peter doesn't dare to look at her.

LISA (CONT'D)
Did you see the state Al was in? He couldn't stop coughing. And it was frankly embarrassing for everybody there. Us having to wrangle the elderly together in a comedy club.

PETER
But these people deserve some fun.

LISA
They deserve not to die.

PETER
I get it.
But I have learned to not take things so serious.
And I thought that was what you liked about me

LISA
But there is a difference between making jokes and risking people's lives.

PETER
Yeah, but I learned that from them.

Lisa doesn't know how to respond.

PETER (CONT'D)
Why do you think I am in here?

LISA
(painful, but trying to be professional)
You came to Bishop because you are in a suicide crisis and there was no place in a traditional mental health hospital.

PETER
Exactly. But you know why I'm in that 'crisis'?

Lisa looks at him, it hurts her to ask.

LISA
Why?

PETER
I take everything so serious. I took everyone else, and myself, and life, so darn serious, that I constricted myself in a chokehold of worry.

LISA
(trying to seem strong but breaking)
But you don't feel like that anymore, do you?

PETER
No. I have been feeling better since meeting you...

Lisa has trouble holding her tears.
Stands up.

LISA
Good. I'm happy to hear that.

Lisa storms out, SLAMS DOOR.
Peter is left alone.

PETER (V.O.)
Did I really fuck up?
I probably did.
Everybody is angry.
I have.
I know I have.
Why can't I stop being an asshole?

INSTRUCTOR (V.O.)
(prelap)
Up with those arms!

INT. SWIMMING POOL - DAY

The elderly are taking their weekly swimming course in the ECHOEY HALL.

Peter - not dressed to take a dive, is instead sitting at the side of the pool, mopey. Al, Maggie and some other elderly sit around him.

PETER

And then she just left, and she hasn't responded to any of my texts.

MAGGIE

I mean you offered her tea so I don't get why she can be mad.

Al gives Peter a pat on the back.
Starts GIGGLING.

PETER

What is funny about that?

AL

Well... A lot.

Al and Maggie LAUGH.

PETER

Fuck you, go into the pool and drown.

AL

In a minute.
I just don't know what you are complaining about.

PETER

What are you talking about.

AL

When you came Bishop, you were complaining about not feeling enough. Not feeling anything and having nothing you care about. And now you are sitting here, and you are complaining that you feel too much.
I don't see how things are worse than ever.

INSTRUCTOR

Guys! Can you get in the pool please so we can get started.

The elderly start going into the pool

AL

At least your feeling something.
That's all I am trying to say.

Peter agrees silently.

PETER

But I lost it now.

AL

You haven't lost it.

PETER

I did!

Al rolls his eyes.

INSTRUCTOR

Okay ladies and gentleman, get back in the pool please.

The elderly walk in a line to the nearest pool ladder.
Because the elderly take a long time, Al turns back to Peter.

AL

It's just time to prove your love to her.

Al goes into the pool.

PETER (V.O.)

Prove my love...
Sounds gay...
But I get it. Maybe I should.
But she doesn't care. Why would she? She walked out on me, she already made her decision, I don't want to disturb that-

INSTRUCTOR

-Are you joining Peter?

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Lisa is puzzling with Miss Kuntz.

Peter walks into the social space, wearing neat clothes holding a bouquet of flowers and a box of chocolates.

Lisa spots him, smile disappears.

LISA
(forces smile)
Betty, I am going to grab some tea, you want some?

MISS KUNTZ
No thank you, child.

Lisa stands up, staring daggers at Peter. Peter frowns.

The tension is broken by Mohandas that steps between them.

MOHANDAS
Ma'am, I believe I shat my pants.

LISA
Oh, let' me bring you to your room and help you, Mr. Mohandas.

She leads him by the arm outside the social room, past Peter, without saying a thing. Peter looks defeated.

INT. MOHANDAS'S ROOM - LATER

Mohandas room is the same as all the others, but furnished with Indian designs, robes, and memorabilia.

They walk in, Mohandas looking embarrassed.

LISA
Okay Mr. Mohandas, you just lean on the bed.

He leans on the bed, and takes off his pants.
But he is wearing two pairs of underpants, one still around his waist, and one dropped to the floor. None of them contain faecal matter, but the one on the floor contains a letter.

LISA (CONT'D)
What, is?

She grabs the letter, it is addressed to 'Lisa'.

She opens it.

*I'm sorry I love you.
I make mistakes.
Loving you isn't one.*
(MORE)

LISA (CONT'D)

*You cure me with your love.
I hope you can forgive me.
I know I am scary one to love.
And don't like that we met here.
But if it wasn't for my suicide crisis like you say, I would've never met you.
But I am okay now, I am happy now.*

Behind her in the doorway stands Peter, with the flowers and chocolates.

She turns around and slowly walks up to him.
She gives him a hug and a kiss.

INT. AL'S ROOM - EVENING

Peter climbs off the poker table, having retrieved the fire alarm. The crew is back together playing poker.

AL

You guys all heard the big news?
Peter is going to get his dick wet soon.

MAGGIE

Lisa is a nice girl Peter, be respectful with her.

Peter is embarrassed, doesn't look at the rest.

JACK

I can't believe it, I am hustling for some tail for months now, and this boy comes in with no charisma and no experience and gets it done.
What does he have what I don't?

AL

Real hips.

JACK

Hey, in my defence, Aujla told me I am the fittest 85-year-old she has ever seen.

PETER

That's because she doesn't know your 65.

JACK

Says the boy who got into a care home aged 24!

AL

(serious)

Hey, not Peter's fault people only started caring for him when he went to a 'care' home.

(laughs)

JACK

Yeah, kid, you should be happy your still young and get pussy that easy.

PETER

(thinks, pretend)

Yeah... It's hard.

MAGGIE

Lisa is a nice girl Peter, be respectful with her.

AL

What you say, Mag'?

MAGGIE

Huh? Oh, that Peter should be respectful with Lisa because she is a nice girl.

AL

Yeah. True, definitely.

Maggie looks a bit confused.

Al gives Maggie a pat on the back.

AL (CONT'D)

How you feeling?

MAGGIE

Yeah, I am fine.

Al purses his lips.

AL

Good.

(awkward throat clear)

Alright, who's dealing?

JACK

Uuuh, I can.

Jack grabs the deck of cards and starts SHUFFLING.
The room is filled with silence for the first time.

INT. MAGGIE'S ROOM - DAY

Lisa is cleaning Maggie's room while she watches the NEWS on the LOUD TV. Peter is helping Lisa.

PETER
Are you also feeling a bit rough from last night, Maggie?

Maggie doesn't hear him.

PETER (CONT'D)
Maggie.

Maggie looks up.

MAGGIE
A what? You need me?

PETER (chuckles, trying to speak clearly and slowly)
Are you also feeling a bit rough from last night?

MAGGIE
Last night? What happened?

PETER
A big rave, and you were dancing on the tables, chugging champagne.

MAGGIE Was I?

PETER
Just joking, Maggie.

Lisa chuckles, Maggie notices, smiles too.

LISA
That should be it, Maggie.
Do you need anything else?

MAGGIE
Oh no, sweetheart, thank you.

PETER
I am just gonna stay with Maggie for another bit.

LISA

Okay.

Lisa and Peter exchange a kiss, but Maggie doesn't see because she is looking for the remote.
Lisa leaves.

Maggie turns the sound off on the TV.

MAGGIE

You should really ask that girl out. She seems to like you.

PETER

Maybe you're right.

MAGGIE

Know where to take her?

Peter sits down besides Maggie.

PETER

Not really, I would love to take her to a restaurant.

MAGGIE

Than do that.

PETER

I don't have money.

MAGGIE

Ugh, money schmoney.

Maggie tries to get out of her chair.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)

Help me up, Kev'.

PETER

Uh, sure...

Peter helps Maggie up.
Maggie walks over to her dresser.

MAGGIE

Let me see what I can do for you.

PETER

Oh, you don't have to.

Maggie rummages through her dresser.

MAGGIE

This is nice.

Maggie shows Peter a gold necklace.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)

It's been in the family for a few decades, but I think it has more use to you.

PETER

Oh no, Maggie, that wouldn't be needed.

MAGGIE

Ah shut up. Take it to the pawn shop in town and see what you can get for it.

Maggie drops it in Peter's hands.

PETER

Sell it? I can't.

MAGGIE

Don't worry, it can sell itself.

Maggie plops in the chair.

PETER

No, I mean I can't take that from you.

MAGGIE

Bollocks, you take that nice girl out. And you need it too. Non-stop hanging out with us relics all the time can't be good to you.

PETER

Yeah, but this is like a family's heirloom, should stay in your family don't you think.

MAGGIE

You know... maybe.

(beat)

Shame there is none of them alive.
(chuckles)

Maggie leans closer.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)

And if it can help you rumble in the hay with a girl that pretty, it's worth all the money in the world.

Peter chuckles.

Maggie turns the SOUND back on.

Peter looks over the bracelet.

PETER

Okay, I will, thank you.

MAGGIE

Huh?

PETER

I will do it, thank you.

MAGGIE

Wha? What will you do sweetheart?

PETER

Uhm. I will, uuuh, I will get you some tea?

MAGGIE

Oh that would be lovely.

Maggie turns back to the TV.

Peter making tea, unsure what transpired.

INT. BUS - DAY

Peter is sitting in the bus with his sports bag, playing his Nintendo Switch.

He looks out through the window. He sighs unhappily.

INT. PAWN SHOP - LATER

BELL CHIMES.

Peter walks into the deserted pawn shop, with only the CLERK (40, bald, heavy, unfriendly face) standing behind the desk.

CLERK

What can I help you with?

PETER

Hello, I was wondering how much I could get for this necklace.

Rummaging through his bag, Peter grabs Maggie's necklace.

CLERK
Do I know you from somewhere?

PETER Sorry?

CLERK
Yeah. You seem familiar.

PETER
(chuckles)
I can assure you, I haven't done anything of note for you to recognize me.

CLERK
Fair enough.

Peter puts the heirloom on the desk.

PETER
How much do you think this is worth. It's from the 60s I have been told.

Clerk puts his jeweller's loupe to his eye.

CLERK
The 60s? You seem young for a 70 year old.
(chuckles)

Peter chuckles awkwardly.

CLERK (CONT'D)
Hmmm. Looks in a good state. Where did you get this?

PETER Uh, I got it from a friend who wanted me to sell it for them.

He takes the loupe away from his eye.

CLERK
You're friends with 70 year-olds?

Peter shrugs his shoulders.

CLERK (CONT'D)

That is where I know you from. You are that boy that lives in the nursery home right outside of town.

PETER

What?

CLERK

Yeah you are, Pete, right?

PETER

Peter.

CLERK

Yeah, Peter Bowbury

PETER

Berry.

CLERK

Yeah!

Clerk pushes the heirloom back.

CLERK (CONT'D)

Well sorry, Peter Berry, I can't take an heirloom like this and buy it.

PETER

Why?

CLERK

Could easily be stolen.

PETER

I didn't steal it!

CLERK

I don't know. You hanging out with old people that can't even remember their own names for most of the time.

PETER

Most of them can!

CLERK

I don't care. I am not buying it, and I advice you to give it back to the person you took it from.

Peter takes it and puts it back in his bag.

PETER

Fine.

Peter walks off.

CLERK

Have a nice day.

Peter turns back.

PETER

What about this.

Peter takes out his Nintendo Switch.
Clerk looks at Peter with a sceptic look.

PETER (CONT'D)

You think the elderly are using a Nintendo Switch too?

INT. MAGGIE'S ROOM - DAY

Maggie is walking through her room, looking for something.

KNOCKING AT DOOR.
Maggie looks up.

In the open door stands Peter.

MAGGIE

Hey, Kev', how are you?

PETER

I am doing good, you?
Looking for something?

MAGGIE

I am doing well, I just have a hard time finding my glasses.

She continues looking for them.

PETER

Uhm, Maggie.
(Peter points to his chest)

Maggie looks down at her own chest.
Her glasses are in their breast pocket.

MAGGIE

Ah, wouldn't you know!

Maggie takes the glasses and puts them on her nose.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)
Anything you wanted to tell me?

PETER
Well I just wanted to thank you.

MAGGIE
(innocent smile)
Oh, for what?

PETER
Oh, uhm.

PETER (CONT'D)
Oh. For, uh, you know, being so welcoming and making me so comfortable since I came here.

MAGGIE
Oh, you don't have to thank me, you don't have to thank anybody. We are so happy to have you here.

Maggie turns her back.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)
Here, let me make you a cup of tea,
you want some?

PETER
Oh, yeah, please. Thank you.

MAGGIE
You don't have to thank nobody.

Peter sneakily walks over to Maggie's dresser.
He OPENS the dresser and puts the necklace Maggie gave back.

MAGGIE (CONT'D)
Oh, you don't have to thank me, you don't have to thank anybody. We are so happy to have you here.

Maggie turns around.
Peter pretends he wasn't in the dresser and just listening.

PETER
Yeah, that's great.

INT. AL'S ROOM - NIGHT

Al is seated at the table, Peter is standing by it.

PETER
So here is my plan.

Peter throws a big A3 paper on the table. On it, instructions and a 9 step plan on how to spent the big date with Lisa.

Al looks over, in awe.

AL
(chuckling)
You're crazy.

PETER
What you think, more steps?

AL
No! No steps at all.

Al looks at the step plan.

AL (CONT'D)
(reading)
Step 3: Tell her she is beautiful.
(at Peter)
You're not saying it if it isn't in the plan?

PETER
Well of course I am going to say she is beautiful, just need to know when.

AL
What do you mean "when"?
When you see her and think "oh, she looks beautiful".

PETER
Hmmm.
Sounds risky.

Al holds brow with fingers.

AL
Don't tell me you have step plan for sex?

PETER
Well..... Not yet.

AL

What are you going to do?

PETER

I don't know. And I don't want to talk about it with you.

AL

You have too!

PETER

Why would I?

AL

It's going to be a disaster if you don't have plan, you.

PETER

(ugly sceptical face)
I'm listening.

AL

You like this girl, right?

PETER

Of course, more than just 'like'.

AL

So what do you want to do with a girl that you like?

PETER

Well I don't know!

AL

You do!

PETER

No, I don't!
I know what I don't want, and that is screw it up. That's why I want a plan.

AL

Okay, maybe you are right, you will fuck this up if you don't have plan.

PETER

Thank you.
And fuck you.

AL

What's your plan?

PETER

Meet her, give her a hug and a kiss, tell her she's beautiful.

AL

Step 3...

PETER

Exactly.
Go inside the restaurant.
Ask if she wants to come back to my room after dinner, hear what her answer is, if no, we have to go to plan B.

AL

Kidnap her and take her to a deserted cabin.

PETER

Funny.

AL

You're a psycho.

PETER

I can see that.

AL

Just be yourself and act how you have been this entire time.

PETER

This is me, I make plans!

AL

Fucking hell.

Al sighs, looks off. Slow blink of acceptance.

AL (CONT'D)

Alright.
If it has worked so far, why change.

Peter is reluctant to take his victory.

PETER

But what do I do, with...
You know...

AL

Fucking?

PETER
Don't call it that.

AL
But you want to do exactly that,
right?

PETER Yes...
I'm nervous, man.

Al stands up.

AL
Don't worry, Uncle Al got you.
Listen.

Al puts his hands as if they are around a woman.

AL (CONT'D)
This is when you already got her in your room, you feel me?

Peter sits down on Al's bed, hands between legs, patiently watching.

PETER Uhum.

AL
And you place your arms around her, where you know she wants you to touch her. And you kiss her gently.

Al leads the imaginary woman to her bed.

AL (CONT'D)
And you lead her to the bed, taking control.
And you gently-
-Get aside, boy.

Peter gets out of the way.

PETER Sorry.

AL
And you put her down gently, making sure she doesn't break anything.

PETER
(quietly)
Break anything?

AL

And you take off her stockings.

Puts up his finger.

AL (CONT'D)

And very important, you lift her at her lower back, not hip, that is going to hurt her.

PETER

I am not fucking a 80 year-old!

AL

Oh, yeah right, I got sucked into it for a sec.

EXT. BISHOP GROVE CARE HOME - EVENING

Peter, dressed in his nicest shirt and black pants, climbs out of his room.

He looks down.

FIRST PERSON POV: FLASHBACK PETER FALLING OFF BUILDING HITTING THE GROUND

Back to reality, Peter takes a deep breath.

Drops to the ground.

He sprints to the BUS.

INT. RESTAURANT - NIGHT

Relatively fancy restaurant for young people like Peter and Lisa.

They are guided to their seats by a WAITER.

WAITER

You're table.

PETER

Thank you.

LISA

Thank you.

They sit down.

WAITER

Would you like to start with a drink?

LISA

Uuhm...

PETER

(smiling)

Get anything you want.

LISA

You sure?

PETER

100%

LISA

Uuuuhm... you know what, I don't need to go fancy, I would like a coke.

WAITER

(writes it down)

Coke.

PETER

For me too please.

WAITER

Great, I will be right back.

Waiter exits.

Lisa leans closer so that the waiter can't hear them.

LISA

You sure that you can afford this place?

PETER

To be honest.
No.

LISA

Oh, we can leave, I really don't mind, I can pay for my coke. I'm just on a nurse salary, an intern nurse salary that is.

PETER

(chuckling)

No, no, no. It's fine.
I sold my Nintendo Switch.

LISA

Your what?

PETER
Expensive gaming, uh, thing, doesn't matter.

LISA
You shouldn't have done that.

PETER
But I wanted to do that.

Peter takes a second. He thinks, let's abort the plan.

PETER (CONT'D)
You mean so much to me.
And you are so beautiful.

Lisa melts.
She leans closer to give him a kiss.

INT. RESTAURANT - LATER

Food has been served and consumed by the two.

LISA
How did they respond to you leaving the home this late?

PETER
Great. Very great.

LISA
You didn't tell them, did you?

PETER
No.

Lisa, annoyed, but she understands -- giggles.

INT. RESTAURANT BAR - LATER

Peter and Lisa stand by the bar.

WAITER
And your bill, sir.

Peter looks at it, closes it VIOLENTLY.

PETER Okay no, you're pretty. But your not 3 digits pretty.

Peter chuckles, and Lisa slaps him playfully.

INT. BAR - LATER

Hip crowd bar, people dancing to MUSIC. They sit at a high table, Peter drinking a scotch like he learned from Al & friends and Lisa a colourful Sex on the Beach.

LISA

The first thing a resident said to me was, "are you my granddaughter?"

PETER

Awwwhhh.

LISA

Which was sweet, right? But I had to tell him 'no'. But then he said: "Great, cause I wouldn't mind rolling in the hay with you one day"

PETER

(laughing)

Was that Jack?

LISA

Ahem.

PETER

(chuckling)

The first thing they told me, the very first thing a resident says to me is: "I've shat myself."

Lisa LAUGHS.

PETER (CONT'D)

Right? It was Mohandas.

LISA

You see! That is why I believed he actually pooped his pants when you put the letter in there.

PETER

"Pooped"

LISA

Shut up.

PETER

I'm so happy he didn't.

LISA

Me too, I would've been the one that had to clean it.
Or remember the first time we "really" met?
When I walked into you in the shower?

PETER

Yeah, let's not talk about that.

LISA

Why not? I think it was funny.

PETER

Wasn't great for me, I was the only one naked then.

LISA

What do you mean, you didn't like being the only one?

PETER

No, not really no.

Lisa looks at the dancing people.

LISA

Remember when you invited me to go to the dance workshop, but we didn't dance for a single second.

PETER

(mid sip)
(chuckles)
Yeah.

LISA

You want to dance?

PETER

(swallows)
(tad bit too loud)
Sure!

LISA

Come on then.

Lisa grabs Peter's hand, together they walk to the dance floor.

Starts off awkward, but they find their footing.
Lisa leans closer and lays her head on Peter's chest.

INT. NIGHT BUS - LATER

Peter and Lisa are sitting in the back of the bus, Lisa leaning her head on Peter's shoulder, resting. Peter calm and content, contrary to how he normally is.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Lisa walks in holding her heels, Peter closes the door behind him carefully. They carefully step over the door sensor without triggering it.

LISA
You know what, your room looks better when it's dark.

Peter walks up to her, ready to embrace and kiss her.

PETER
You look better in the dark too.

Peter kisses Lisa, Lisa frees her head for a second.

LISA
I don't know how to take that.

PETER
(between kissing)
As a compliment.

Lisa CHUCKLES.
Peter pushes Lisa closer to the bed while they kiss.

LISA
(between kissing)
I know exactly what your doing.

PETER
(while kissing)
I am not hiding it.

Peter lets Lisa drop on the bed -- gently, like an old woman. He very carefully grabs her lower back, not her hip.

LISA Wait.
I want to do it safe.

Lisa reaches for the nightstand besides the bed.
TURNS LIGHT ON.

PETER

Oh wait.-

Peter blinded by the light.
Lisa opens a drawer, RATTLING OF PILLS.

LISA

What is...?

LISA (CONT'D)

What are all these pills?

Peter wants to say something but doesn't know what.
She notices the hard liquor.

LISA (CONT'D)

Are these the sleeping pills we've been giving you? You know those are deadly to take when mixed with alcohol.

PETER

(deeply ashamed)

I... Know....

LISA

You always say you can't sleep. But why haven't you been taking them?

(beat)

Don't lie to me.

PETER

I...

(gets teary eyed)

I just didn't know how things would go...

I just wanted to have a ticket out if things would go... bad.

Lisa jumps up out of bed, grabs her bag.

LISA

You were planning on killing yourself this entire time?!

PETER

(whispering)

I wasn't!

LISA

Then why do you have those pills and liquor in there, Peter!

PETER
Please, quiet down, they will wake up.

LISA
I don't care! You've been thinking of killing yourself when in letter you told me you would never!

Lisa picks up her shoes.

PETER
Lisa, I don't know why I kept them, it was just a habit.

LISA
Oh, you just had the habit of killing yourself, great!

Lisa marches to the door.

LISA (CONT'D)
It's for the better, this was my last week at Bishop anyways.

Peter grabs her arm -- pulls her back.

PETER
Lisa, please, don't go.

LISA
Let go of me! You are hurting me.

PETER
Lisa please, I can't lose you.
You are the thing that makes me happy.

LISA
Don't say those things.
Let go of me!

PETER
Please Lisa, I can't live without you.

LISA
Don't say that.
Please don't say that.
Don't say that when I know what you have in that night stand.

Lisa looks at him, the tears in her eyes are visible.

Peter, mad, sad, and desperate, internally fighting himself.

He lets go of her arm.

Lisa rushes out, SLAMS DOOR.

DOOR SENSOR ALARM GOES OFF.

PETER (V.O.)

You fucking, fucking, always fucking things up.

You don't deserve her.

You never did.

You don't deserve a single thing, except for the things that are coming to you.

Peter is left alone in the dark room.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - MORNING

Peter is still in the same clothes as last night. He hasn't slept and his eyes are red from crying and sleep deprivation.

He opens his nightstand, PILLS RATTLE.

He looks down at the pills, frowns.

SLAMS NIGHTSTAND, PILLS RATTLE.

He checks his phone.

Peter has send a message to Al at 04:03: "Message me when you wake up."

It is now 12:32.

But no reply.

Peter sighs.

INT. HALLWAY - LATER

Peter walks through the hallways and stops at Al's room.
The door is open but Al's not there.

Naya walks past, pushing forth Miss Kuntz in a wheelchair.

PETER

You've seen Al around?

Naya looks up, her smiling face fades into a worried one.

NAYA

Oh... Al has been taken to the hospital this morning.

PETER
Hospital? What's wrong?

NAYA
Aujla said he was coughing blood this morning and she rushed him to the hospital.

PETER
Which hospital?

NAYA
Westminster if I am correct.

Peter hurries off, Naya looks at him with sympathy.

INT. HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY

A weak and pale Al is laying in bed with Aujla sitting by him -- visibly tired.

Peter enters.

PETER
Al!

Peter runs up to Al, gives him a hug, a bit too hard.

AUJLA
Oh, be careful.

Peter gets off Al.

AUJLA (CONT'D)
I am going talk to the doctor to ask when you can go home.

Aujla leaves.

PETER
What happened?

AL
It's all blur. I remember waking up with a excruciating burning in my chest. I started coughing, and all that came out was blood.
Luckily Auj' was working that night, so she took me to the hospital as fast as she could. She had the night shift, but she is still here. Poor thing.

They look through the window to the hallway where we see Aujla talk to a doctor.

PETER

Poor thing? Sorry, Al, but you know your the one in the hospital bed.

AL

I know, it's comfy.

Al CHUCKLES, turning into a PAINFUL COUGH.

The doctor and Aujla look in to see if things are fine.

Al puts up a thumbs up.

PETER

How are you feeling?

AL

Can't complain.

Peter CHUCKLES involuntarily.

AL (CONT'D)

But it's official now.
There is nothing they can do.

Peter's eyes start to water.

PETER

(smiling)

You fucking asshole.

AL

I know.

Al chuckles.

Peter embraces Al, Al surprised, doesn't fully hug him back.

Al FAKES COUGHS.

Peter gets off him.

AL (CONT'D)

Yeah. Now that we are doing...
this.

I wanted to thank you for pushing me on stage once more.

I knew I missed it.

But I was simply, too scared to do it again. I thought my time was up, and I had given it my all.

(MORE)

AL (CONT'D)
But that night I found out it was one of the most fulfilling things
I've ever done.
And now that you tasted that too, kid, don't you make that same mistake.

Peter just nods, quietly and carefully, smiling.

AL (CONT'D)
(fake coughs)
The smoke in there probably drove me over the edge too, but we can't win everything.

PETER
(painful laugh)
Fuck you man.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - LATER

Aujla finishes talking to the doctor.

Peter walks up to Aujla.

PETER
Thank you, Aujla, for saving Al.

AUJLA Thanks, Peter. But it's only my job. But I still appreciate it.
How are you feeling? You seem tired.

PETER
I am. Didn't sleep much.

AUJLA
Me neither.

Aujla and Peter CHUCKLE awkwardly.

PETER
So how is he doing?
Really.

Aujla looks around, SIGHS.

AUJLA
Not great...
I'm sorry Peter.

Peter trying to process it.
He embraces Aujla who hugs him back.

INT. HALLWAY - DAY

Peter drove home with Aujla to the nursery home.

Jack walks in, sees Aujla.

JACK
Hey Aujla, didn't know you were working today, want to share a cup of tea later?
(winks)

AUJLA Not now Jack, I am picking up my things and going home.

Aujla disappears into the nurses office.

JACK
What's up her ass?

PETER
(sighs) It's Al. Auj' brought him to the doctor last night.
Cancer has spread through his lungs.

Jack looks at Peter, his lips trembling that only an old man can.

He looks off, he wants to sit down but there is no chair, he FALLS TO THE FLOOR.

PETER (CONT'D)
Jack!

Jack MOANS OUT OF PAIN.

JACK
Help me up, son.

PETER
No problem.

He helps him up.

PETER (CONT'D)
Want to sit somewhere and talk?

Jack looks at the floor, nods.

EXT. COURTYARD - LATER

Peter and Jack sit on a lone bench.

PETER

I just don't know, my parents are worried, I have no friends my age, Lisa refuses to talk to me, and I know I have only known Al for like a few months, but I don't...

(beat)

I just feel so weak and pathetic for being here.

JACK

I get you, son.

PETER

Do you?

(beat)

I always get the impression you guys are tough as nails, ridiculing the things I am going through. Like I am just being a little bitch.

JACK

Well, you're kind of a bitch.

Peter shakes his head with tears in his eyes, not knowing to laugh or not

JACK (CONT'D)

But let me ask you this.
When I fell on the floor, and couldn't get up myself.
Should I've been embarrassed?

PETER

No, of course not.

JACK

Why shouldn't I?

PETER

Because you can't help it, and I only helped you get back on your feet and you were alright.

JACK

Exactly.
You shouldn't be embarrassed when asking for a little pick-me-up.

Peter CHUCKLES.
Wipes his tears.

PETER

Thanks...
(chuckles)
But it feels a little gay to ask for it, right?

JACK

Super gay.

Peter stares out on the yard.

PETER

I wish we could give Al a little
'pick-me-up'.

Jack chuckles.

JACK

Yeah, good luck with that.
That man is as stubborn as a cigar smoking bull with lung cancer.

Peter and Jack chuckle softly.
Peter frowns, realizes something.

PETER

I actually have an idea.

INT. HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY

Al is laying in his bed.

Aujla walks in.

AUJLA

Your going home today.

AL

Took you long enough.

Aujla helps Al into his wheelchair.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Al is being wheeled around through the hallway.

OLD PATIENT (O.S.)
(other room)
Nurse, I've shit myself!

AL
Me too, pal.

INT. WHEELCHAIR ACCESSIBLE VAN - LATER

Aujla is sitting in the front, driving.
Al is in the back in his wheelchair, whose shaking left and right with every bump.

AL
(from the back)
I feel like a horse back here.

Aujla GIGGLES.

EXT. BISHOP GRUNGE CARE HOME FRONT DOOR - LATER

Al is being lowered with the van's INCREDIBLY SLOW RAMP.

Al is tapping his imaginary watch

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - DAY

Al is wheeled in by Aujla.

The entire social room is revamped to a improvise Dean Martin Celebrity Roast stage.

A desk in the middle, with tables on either side, and chairs for the audience in front.

The sign is drawn with Al's face, with around it 'The Roast of Al', the room is decorated with streamers from Christmas and Halloween and other things they could find in the stock room.

EVERYONE
Welcome back, Al!

Al is surprized.
Peter walks up to Al.

PETER
It's time we put you on the roasting spit.

Al is looking around, can't believe it, looks at Peter.

AL
Alright, let's do it!

The elderly CHEER.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

Peter is the roast master, whose seat is just besides the lectern with Al's face behind it.

Al, Jack, Maggie, Aujla, Betty, Naya, Mohandas are seated and dressed in their nicest Sunday clothes.

PETER
Welcome to the Roast of Al!
I think I speak for all, in that after all this time, Al making fun of all of us, it is time for revenge.

The audience of elderly, family visiting and nurses CHEER.

MONTAGE OF EVERYBODY TAKING THEIR TURN AT THE LECTERN:

MAGGIE
I don't remember the last time--.

AL (O.S.)
--Of course you don't!

MAGGIE
(insulted)
Well, my.
I certainly don't remember the last time you had some actual manners.

Maggie looks over, happily, at the crowd laughing.

PETER Since coming here, I hear a lot of bullshit come out of these guys their mouths.
(MORE)

PETER (CONT'D)

And I don't know if it is because they don't remember anything anymore, but without a shadow of a doubt, the person who excreted the most shit has to be Mohandas because it comes out on both ends, non-stop.

MOHANDAS

(high anticipation)

I've shat myself

EVERYONE

-.shat myself!

Mohandas smiles.

AUJLA

Hello.

(tests microphone)

Oh, sorry.

Uhm.

(reads from card)

I think I speak for all, is that we all know that iconic little smirk
Al gives when he makes a joke. That he blesses us with at least 7 times a day, doesn't matter breakfast time, dinner time or just before bed...

(beat)

God, am I sick of that fucking smirk.

People LAUGH, some people CHEER Aujla on.
She is surprized, but happy.

PETER

Al has taught me a lot in these few months, how to mingle, how to be confident, how to laugh.
I found a great friend in Al.

(beat)

But I sincerely believe, that Al became friends with me, because he knew he was going to die, and he wanted his last "fuck you" to be that he would die.

AL (O.S.)

Pretty funny, right?!

Peter flips the bird to Al.

JACK
 (animated, pointing at Peter)
 You know what this punk snotnose said to me?
 (beat)
 I asked him, so you just came to the nursery home and are just going bully me until I die?
 And the kid said:
 "yeah."

(More jokes from Miss Kuntz, Jack, Maggie, Naya, and Peter in later drafts)

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

The evening is nearing it's end.

Lisa walks in, stands in the back. Peter doesn't notice her.

PETER
 And now I want to give time to the man of the hour, Al!

People clap, sit at the edge of their seats, the elderly turn up their hearing aids.

AL
 Thank you!
 And thank you Peter.
 An applause for Peter, ladies and gentlemen.
 Brave enough to jump off a building but too scared to talk to a girl.
 Yeah, your not only bad at talking to women, but also at killing yourself.
 Give an applause to Jack everybody.
 (beat)
 The missing link of human evolution.
 I lived 85 years, and never have I met anybody with an higher libido than Jack. To a point, that I am convinced that Viagra is made out of his pulverized hip bones he lost in '87.
 (beat) Maggie, I have to say only one thing to you.
 I love you, you are a great person and a great friend.

(MORE)

AL (CONT'D)

(beat)

And before you forget.

I love you, you are a great person,
and a great friend.

(beat)

Auj, for an establishment that focuses on rest and relaxation, you are downright the most stressful person I have ever met in my life.
And my field Marshall back in 'Nam made me run in first into the Vietcong soldiers.

(beat)

But... I guess, without that urgency and care, I would be drowning in my own blood on my bed.

(voice break)

So... thank you for that.

The laughter starts dying out.

AL (CONT'D)

(emotional, but trying to stay strong)

I've actually had a great time here at Bishop.

Which many of you probably can't believe.

(snicker)

But. I've met some wonderful people here, and have had a lot of laughs with a lot people.

Most of them came from me of course.

(chuckle)

But I'm thankful for the time I've had here. Here at Bishop, and in life too.

(deep breath, hard time keeping tears in)

Last, I want to thank Peter. For organising this, and doubling the laughs I've had these last few months, and also having some of the biggest I've had all my life.

(voice break)

So. Thank you for that.

Everybody claps and cheers Al on.

Lisa frowns, leaves.

INT. SOCIAL SPACE - LATER

The party is over, but the residents still chuckle on, but all shuffle towards their rooms.

Al and Peter hug.
Peter helps Al to his room.

AL
You got something kid.
You have something.
Could be autism,
but you have something.

Al gives Peter a hug, and they embrace each other.

INT. PETER'S ROOM - NIGHT

Peter looks inside his nightstand, the pills are still there.

INT. PETER'S ROOM BATHROOM - LATER

Peter FLUSHES the entire stack of pills down the toilet.

EMOTIONAL MUSIC STARTS (LITTLE PERSON BY JON BRION):

INT. PETER'S ROOM

Peter goes to bed.

INT. VARIOUS - MONTAGE

Peter gets told Al has passed away.

Shots of Al getting taken out of the nursery home covered by a sheet.

The residents and Peter look on with sad faces.

EXT. GRAVEYARD - DAY

Al's funeral, everybody dressed in black.

Peter stands in silence looking at Al's grave and picture.

Across the casket is Lisa, dressed in black, looking moody.

They share a glimpse. But Lisa quickly looks back at the casket.

Peter knows it's over. He looks down at his new-old-recently-passed-away-friend.

INT. PETER'S ROOM BATHROOM

Peter looks at himself in the mirror.

Carefully, and very faint, he smiles to himself.

In the reflection, Mom and Dad stand, ready to bring him home.

THE END

EMOTIONAL MUSIC STOPS.
